Introduction

The Office of the Comptroller of the Currency’s (OCC) Comptroller’s Handbook booklet, “Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act,” is prepared for use by OCC examiners in connection with their examination and supervision of national banks and federal savings associations (collectively, banks). Each bank is different and may present specific issues. Accordingly, examiners should apply the information in this booklet consistent with each bank’s individual circumstances.

The booklet provides background information and optional expanded examination procedures for the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act of 1974 (RESPA) and Regulation X.\(^1\) Examiners decide which of these procedures are necessary, if any, after completing a compliance core assessment as outlined in the “Large Bank Supervision,” “Community Bank Supervision,” or “Federal Branches and Agencies Supervision” booklet.

Background and Summary

RESPA (12 USC 2601 et seq.) became effective on June 20, 1975. The act requires lenders, mortgage brokers, or servicers of home loans to provide borrowers with pertinent and timely disclosures regarding the nature and costs of the real estate settlement process. RESPA also prohibits specific practices, such as kickbacks, and places limitations on the use of escrow accounts. The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) originally promulgated Regulation X, which implements RESPA.

Congress has amended RESPA significantly since its enactment. The Cranston-Gonzalez National Affordable Housing Act of 1990\(^2\) amended RESPA to require detailed disclosures concerning the transfer, sale, or assignment of mortgage servicing. RESPA also requires disclosures for mortgage escrow accounts at closing and annually thereafter, itemizing the charges paid by the borrower and those paid out of the account by the servicer.

In October 1992, Congress amended RESPA\(^3\) to cover subordinate lien loans.

Congress, when it enacted the Economic Growth and Regulatory Paperwork Reduction Act of 1996,\(^4\) further amended RESPA to clarify certain definitions, including “controlled business arrangement,”5 which was changed to “affiliated business arrangement.” The changes also reduced the disclosures under the mortgage servicing provisions of RESPA.

In 2008, HUD issued a RESPA Reform Rule (73 Fed. Reg. 68204 (November 17, 2008)) that included substantive and technical changes to the existing RESPA regulations and different implementation dates for various provisions. Substantive changes included a standard Good Faith Estimate form (GFE) and a revised HUD-1 Settlement Statement that were required as of January 1, 2010. Technical changes, including streamlined mortgage servicing disclosure language, elimination of outdated escrow account provisions, and a provision permitting an “average charge” to be listed on the GFE and HUD-1 Settlement Statement, took effect on January 16, 2009. In addition, HUD clarified that all disclosures required by RESPA are permitted to be provided electronically, in accordance with the Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act (E-Sign).6

The Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act of 20107 (Dodd-Frank) granted rule-making authority under RESPA to the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) and, with respect to entities under its jurisdiction, generally granted authority to the CFPB to supervise for and enforce compliance with RESPA and its implementing regulations.8 In December 2011, the CFPB restated HUD’s implementing regulation at 12 CFR 1024 (76 Fed. Reg. 78978 (December 20, 2011)).

On January 17, 2013, the CFPB issued a final rule to amend Regulation X (78 Fed. Reg. 10696 (February 14, 2013)). The final rule included substantive and technical changes to the existing regulations. Substantive changes included modifying the servicing transfer notice requirements and implementing new procedures and notice requirements related to borrowers’ error resolution requests and information requests. The amendments also included new provisions related to escrow payments, force-placed insurance, general servicing policies, procedures, and requirements, early intervention, continuity of contact, and loss mitigation. The amendments became effective January 10, 2014.

On July 10, 2013 and September 13, 2013, the CFPB issued final rules to further amend Regulation X (78 Fed. Reg. 44685 (July 24, 2013)), (78 Fed. Reg. 60382 (October 1, 2013)). The final rules included substantive and technical changes to the existing regulations, including revisions to provisions on the relation to state law of Regulation X’s servicing provisions, to the loss mitigation procedure requirements, and to the requirements relating to notices of error and information requests. On October 15, 2013, the CFPB issued an interim final rule to further amend Regulation X (78 Fed. Reg. 62993 (October 23, 2013)) to exempt servicers from the early intervention requirements in certain circumstances. The Regulation X amendments became effective January 10, 2014.

The amendments issued on following dates—January 17, 2013; July 10, 2013; September 13, 2013; and October 15, 2013—are collectively referred to in this booklet as the “2013 amendments.”

Subpart A—General Provisions

Coverage (12 CFR 1024.5(a))

RESPA is applicable to all federally related mortgage loans, except as provided under 12 CFR 1024.5(b).

Federally related mortgage loans are defined as loans (other than temporary loans), including refinancings that satisfy the following two criteria:

- First, the loan is secured by a first or subordinate lien on residential real property, located within a state,\(^9\) on which either
  - a one-to-four family structure is located or is to be constructed using proceeds of the loan (including individual units of condominiums and cooperatives); or
  - a manufactured home is located or is to be placed using proceeds of the loan.

- Second, the loan falls within one of the following categories:
  - Loans made by a lender,\(^10\) creditor,\(^11\) or dealer;\(^12\)
  - Loans made or insured by an agency of the federal government;
  - Loans made in connection with a housing or urban development program administered by an agency of the federal government;
  - Loans made and intended to be sold by the originating lender or creditor to Federal National Mortgage Association (FNMA or Fannie Mae), Government National Mortgage Association (GNMA or Ginnie Mae), or Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation (FHLMC or Freddie Mac) (or its successor); or
  - Loans that are the subject of a home-equity conversion mortgage or reverse mortgage issued by a lender or creditor subject to the regulation.

\(^9\) State means any state of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, and any territory or possession of the United States

\(^10\) A lender includes those financial institutions regulated by, or whose deposits or accounts are insured by, any agency of the federal government.

\(^11\) A creditor is defined in section 103(g) of the Consumer Credit Protection Act (15 USC 1602(g)). RESPA covers any creditor that makes or invests in residential real estate loans aggregating more than $1,000,000 per year.

\(^12\) Dealer is defined in Regulation X to mean a seller, contractor, or supplier of goods or services. Dealer loans are covered by RESPA if the obligations are to be assigned before the first payment is due to any lender or creditor otherwise subject to the regulation.
Federally related mortgage loans are also defined to include installment sales contracts, land contracts, or contracts for deeds on otherwise qualifying residential property if the contract is funded in whole or in part by proceeds of a loan made by a lender, specified federal agency, dealer, or creditor subject to the regulation.

Exemptions (12 CFR 1024.5(b))

The following transactions are exempt from coverage:

- A loan on property of 25 acres or more (whether or not a dwelling is located on the property).
- A loan primarily for business, commercial or agricultural purposes (definition identical to Regulation Z, 12 CFR 1026.3(a)(1)).
- A temporary loan, such as a construction loan. The exemption does not apply if the loan is used as, or may be converted to, permanent financing by the same financial institution or is used to finance transfer of title to the first user of the property. If the lender issues a commitment for permanent financing, the loan is covered by the regulation.
- A “bridge loan” or “swing loan” in which a lender takes a security interest in otherwise covered 1- to 4-family residential property.
- A loan secured by vacant or unimproved property if no proceeds of the loan are used to construct a one-to-four family residential structure.
- An assumption, unless the mortgage instruments require lender approval for the assumption and the lender approves the assumption.
- A conversion of a loan to different terms, which is consistent with provisions of the original mortgage instrument—as long as a new note is not required—even if the lender charges an additional fee for the conversion.
- A bona fide transfer of a loan obligation in the secondary market, except with respect to provisions relating to servicing of mortgage loans and administration of escrow accounts and to the mortgage servicing requirements of subpart C, 12 CFR 1024.30-41.

13 Any construction loan with a term of two years or more is covered by the regulation, unless it is made to a bona fide contractor.

14 If the proceeds are used to locate a manufactured home or construct a structure within two years from the date of settlement, the loan is covered.

15 12 CFR 1024.5(b)(6).

16 Mortgage broker transactions that are table funded (the loan is funded by a contemporaneous advance of loan funds and an assignment of the loan to the person advancing the funds) are not secondary market transactions and therefore are covered by RESPA. Similarly, neither the creation of a dealer loan or consumer credit contract, nor the first assignment of such loan or contract to a lender, is a secondary market transaction.
Subpart B—Mortgage Settlement and Escrow Accounts

Special Information Booklet (12 CFR 1024.6)

A loan originator\(^{17}\) is required to provide the borrower with a copy of the Special Information Booklet at the time a written application is submitted or no later than three business days after the application is received. If the application is denied before the end of the three-business-day period, the loan originator is not required to provide the booklet. If the borrower uses a mortgage broker, the broker rather than the lender, must provide the booklet.

The booklet does not need to be provided for refinancing transactions, closed-end subordinate lien mortgage loans, and reverse mortgage transactions, or for any other federally related mortgage loan not intended for the purchase of a one-to-four family residential property.

A loan originator that complies with Regulation Z (12 CFR 1026.40) for open-end home equity plans is deemed to have complied with this section.

GFE of Settlement Costs (12 CFR 1024.7) Standard GFE Required

As of January 1, 2010, a loan originator is required to provide a consumer with the standard GFE that is designed to allow borrowers to shop for a mortgage loan by comparing settlement costs and loan terms. (See GFE in appendix C to 12 CFR Part 1024.)

Overview of Standard GFE

The first page of the GFE includes a summary of loan terms and a summary of estimated settlement charges. It also includes information about key dates, such as when the interest rate for the loan quoted in the GFE expires and when the estimate for the settlement charges expires. The second page discloses settlement charges as subtotals for 11 categories of costs. The third page provides instructions and a table explaining which charges can change at settlement, a trade-off table showing the relationship between the interest rate and settlement charges, and a shopping chart to compare the costs and terms of loans offered by different originators.

GFE Application Requirements

- The loan originator must provide the standard GFE to the borrower within three business days of receipt of an application for a mortgage loan. A loan originator is not required to provide a GFE if, before the end of the three-business-day period, the application is denied or the borrower withdraws the application.

\(^{17}\) A “loan originator” is defined as a lender or mortgage broker (12 CFR 1024.2(b)).
• An application can be in writing or electronically submitted, including a written record of an oral application.
• A loan originator determines what information it needs to collect from a borrower and which of the collected information it will use in order to issue a GFE. Under the regulations, an “application” includes at least the following six pieces of information:

1. Borrower’s name
2. Borrower’s gross monthly income
3. Borrower’s Social Security Number (e.g., to enable the loan originator to obtain a credit report)
4. Property address
5. Estimated value of the property
6. Mortgage loan amount sought
7. Any other information the loan originator deems necessary

A loan originator is presumed to have relied on such information before issuing a GFE and cannot base a revision of a GFE on that information unless it changes or is later found to be inaccurate.

• Although the loan originator may require the borrower to submit additional information beyond the six pieces of information previously listed in order to issue a GFE, the loan originator cannot require, as a condition of providing the GFE, the submission of supplemental documentation to verify the information provided by the borrower on the application. A loan originator is not prohibited, however, from using its own sources to verify the information provided by the borrower before issuing the GFE. The loan originator can require borrowers to provide verification information after the GFE has been issued in order to complete final underwriting.
• For dealer loans, the loan originator is responsible for providing the GFE directly or ensuring that the dealer provides the GFE.
• For brokered mortgage loans, either the lender or the mortgage broker must provide a GFE within three business days after a mortgage broker receives either an application or information sufficient to complete an application. The lender is responsible for ascertaining whether the GFE has been provided. If the mortgage broker has provided the GFE to the applicant, the lender is not required to provide an additional GFE.
• A loan originator is prohibited from charging a borrower any fee in order to obtain a GFE unless the fee is limited to the cost of a credit report.

GFE Not Required for Open-End Lines of Credit (12 CFR 1024.7(h))

A loan originator that complies with Regulation Z (12 CFR 1026.40) for open-end home equity plans is deemed to have complied with section 1024.7.

Availability of GFE Terms (12 CFR 1024.7(c))

Regulation X does not establish a minimum period of availability for which the interest rate must be honored. The loan originator must determine the expiration date for the interest rate of the loan stated on the GFE. In contrast, Regulation X requires that the estimated settlement charges and loan terms listed on the GFE be honored by the loan originator for at least 10 business days from the date the GFE is provided. The period of availability for the estimated settlement charges and loan terms as well as the period of availability for the interest rate of the loan stated on the GFE must be listed on the GFE in the “important dates” section of the form.

After the expiration date for the interest rate of the loan stated on the GFE, the interest rate and the other rate related charges, including the charge or credit for the interest rate chosen, the adjusted origination charges and the per diem interest can change until the interest rate is locked.

Key GFE Contents (12 CFR 1024.7(d))

The loan originator must ensure that the required GFE is completed in accordance with the instructions set forth in appendix C of 12 CFR 1024.

First Page of GFE

- The first page of the GFE discloses identifying information, such as the name and address of the loan originator, which includes the lender or the mortgage broker originating the loan. The “purpose” section indicates that the GFE is designed to provide the borrower with estimates of settlement charges and loan terms, and it directs the borrower to the Truth in Lending disclosures and HUD’s Web site for more information. The borrower is informed that only the borrower can shop for the best loan and that the borrower should compare loan offers using the shopping chart on the third page of the GFE.

- The “important dates” section requires the loan originator to state the expiration date for the interest rate for the loan provided in the GFE as well as the expiration date for the estimate of other settlement charges and other loan terms not dependent on the interest rate.

- Although the interest rate stated on the GFE is not required to be honored for any specific period of time, the estimate for the other settlement charges and other loan terms must be honored for at least 10 business days from the date the GFE is provided.

- In addition, the form must state how many calendar days within which the borrower must go to settlement once the interest rate is locked (rate lock period). The form also requires disclosure of how many days before settlement the interest rate would have to be locked, if applicable.

- The “summary of your loan” section requires disclosure of (1) the loan amount; (2) loan term; (3) initial interest rate; (4) initial monthly payment for principal, interest and any mortgage insurance; (5) whether the interest rate can rise, and if so, the maximum rate to which it can rise over the life of the loan, and the period of time after which the interest rate can first change; (6) whether the loan balance can rise if the payments are made on time and, if so, the maximum amount to which it can rise over the life of the loan; (7) whether the monthly amount owed for principal, interest and any mortgage insurance can rise even if payments are made on time, and, if so, the maximum amount to which the monthly amount owed can ever rise over the life of the loan; (8) whether the loan has a prepayment penalty and, if so, the maximum amount it could be; and (9) whether the loan has a balloon payment and, if so, the amount of such payment and in how many years it is due.

• The “escrow account information” section requires the loan originator to indicate whether the loan does or does not have an escrow account to pay property taxes or other property related charges. In addition, this section also requires the disclosure of the monthly amount owed for principal, interest, and any mortgage insurance.

• The bottom of the first page includes subtotals for the adjusted origination charges and charges for all other settlement charges listed on page two, along with the total estimated settlement charges.

Second Page of GFE

The second page of the GFE requires disclosure of all settlement charges. It provides for the estimate of total settlement costs in 11 categories discussed in the next section. The adjusted origination charges are disclosed in Block A and all other settlement charges are disclosed in Block B. The amounts in the blocks are to be added to arrive at the “total estimated settlement charges,” which is required to be listed at the bottom of page two of the GFE.

Disclosure of Adjusted Origination Charge (Block A)

Block A addresses disclosure of origination charges, which include all lender and mortgage broker charges. The “adjusted origination charge” results from the subtraction of a “credit” from the “origination charge” or the addition of a “charge” to the origination charge.

• Block 1: The origination charges, which include lender processing and underwriting fees and any fees paid to a mortgage broker.

   Origination charge note: Block 1 requires the disclosure of all charges that all loan originators involved in the transaction receive for originating the loan (excluding any charges for points). A loan originator may not separately charge any additional fees for getting the loan such as application, processing, or underwriting fees. The amount in block 1 is subject to zero tolerance, i.e., the amount cannot change at settlement.

• Block 2: A credit or charge for the interest rate chosen.

   Credit or Charge for the Interest Rate Chosen Note:

   Transaction Involving a Mortgage Broker. For a transaction involving a mortgage broker,\(^\text{18}\) Block 2 requires disclosure of a credit or charge (points) for the specific interest rate chosen.

\(^{18}\) The RESPA Reform Rule changed the definition of “mortgage broker” to mean a person or entity (not an employee of a lender) that renders origination services and serves as an intermediary between a lender and a borrower in a transaction involving a federally related mortgage loan, including such person or entity that closes the loan in its own name and table funds the transaction. The definition also applies to a loan correspondent approved under 24 CFR 202.8 for Federal Housing Administration (FHA) programs. The definition also includes an “exclusive agent” who is not an employee of the lender.
The credit or charge for the specific interest rate chosen is the net payment to the mortgage broker (i.e., the sum of all payments to the mortgage broker from the lender, including payments based on the loan amount, a flat rate or any other compensation, and in a table-funded transaction, the loan amount less the price paid for the loan by the lender).

When the net payment to the mortgage broker from the lender is positive, there is a credit to the borrower and it is entered as a negative amount. For example, if the lender pays a yield spread premium to a mortgage broker for the loan set forth in the GFE, the payment must be disclosed as a credit to the borrower for the particular interest rate listed on the GFE (reflected on the GFE at Block 2, check box 2). The term “yield spread premium” is not featured on the GFE or the HUD-1 Settlement Statement.

Points paid by the borrower for the interest rate chosen must be disclosed as a “charge” (reflected on the GFE at Block 2, third check box). A loan cannot include both a charge (points) and a credit (yield spread premium).

Transaction Not Involving a Mortgage Broker. For a transaction without a mortgage broker, a lender may choose not to separately disclose any credit or charge for the interest rate chosen for the loan in the GFE. If the lender does not include any credit or charge in Block 2, it must check the first check box in block 2 indicating that “The credit or charge for the interest rate you have chosen is included in ‘our origination charge’ above.” The lender must insert the interest rate and must insert a “0” in Block 2. Only one of the boxes in block 2 may be checked, as a credit and charge cannot occur together in the same transaction.

Disclosure of Charges for All Other Settlement Services (Block B)

Block B is the sum of charges for all settlement services other than the origination charges.

- Block 3: Required services by providers selected by the lender such as appraisal and flood certification fees
- Block 4: Title service fees and the cost of lender’s title insurance
- Block 5: Owner’s title insurance
- Block 6: Other required services for which the consumer may shop
- Block 7: Government recording charges
- Block 8: Transfer tax charges
- Block 9: Initial deposit for escrow account
- Block 10: Daily interest charges
- Block 11: Homeowner’s insurance charges

Third Page of GFE

The third page of the GFE includes the following information:

- A tolerance chart identifying the charges that can change at settlement (see “Tolerance Categories” section).
• A trade-off table that requires the loan originator to provide information on the loan described in the GFE and at the loan originator’s option, information about alternative loans (one with lower settlement charges but a higher interest rate and one with a lower interest rate but higher settlement charges).
• A shopping chart that allows the consumer to fill in loan terms and settlement charges from other lenders or brokers to use to compare loans.
• Language indicating that some lenders may sell the loan after settlement but that any fees the lender receives in the future cannot change the borrower’s loan or the settlement charges.

Tolerances on Settlement Costs (12 CFR 1024.7(e) and (i))

The RESPA Reform Rule established tolerances or limits on the amount actual settlement charges can vary at closing from the amounts stated on the GFE. The rule established three categories of settlement charges and each category has different tolerances. If, at settlement, the charges exceed the charges listed on the GFE by more than the permitted tolerances, the loan originator may cure the tolerance violation by reimbursing to the borrower the amount by which the tolerance was exceeded, at settlement or within 30 calendar days after settlement.

Tolerance Categories

• Zero tolerance category: This category of fees is subject to a zero tolerance standard. The fees estimated on the GFE may not be exceeded at closing. These fees include – loan originator’s own origination charge, including processing and underwriting fees.
  – credit or charge for the interest rate chosen (i.e., yield spread premium or discount points) while the interest rate is locked.
  – adjusted origination charge while the interest rate is locked.
  – state and local property transfer taxes.

• Ten percent tolerance category: For this category of fees, although each individual fee may increase or decrease, the sum of the charges at settlement may not be greater than 10 percent above the sum of the amounts included on the GFE. This category includes fees for – loan originator-required settlement services, for which the loan originator selects the third-party settlement service provider.
  – loan originator-required services, title services, required title insurance, and owner’s title insurance when the borrower selects a third-party provider identified by the loan originator.
  – government recording charges.

• No tolerance category: The final category of fees is not subject to any tolerance restriction. The amounts charged for the following settlement services included on the GFE can change at settlement and the amount of the change is not limited. This includes – loan originator-required services in which the borrower selects his or her own third-party provider.
  – title services, lender’s title insurance, and owner’s title insurance when the borrower selects his or her own provider.
Identification of Third-Party Settlement Service Providers

When the loan originator permits a borrower to shop for one or more required third-party settlement services and select the settlement service provider for such required services, the loan originator must list in the relevant block on page two of the GFE the settlement service and the estimated charge to be paid to the provider of each required service. In addition, the loan originator must provide the borrower with a written list of settlement service providers for those required services on a separate sheet of paper at the time the GFE is provided.

Binding GFE (12 CFR 1024.7(f))

The loan originator is bound, within the tolerances provided, to the settlement charges and terms listed on the GFE provided to the borrower, unless a new GFE is provided before settlement (see the following discussion on changed circumstances). This also means that if a lender accepts a GFE issued by a mortgage broker, the lender is subject to the loan terms and settlement charges listed in the GFE, unless a new GFE is issued before settlement.

Changed Circumstances (12 CFR 1024.2(b), 1024.7(f)(1) and (f)(2))

Changed circumstances are defined as

- acts of God, war, disaster, or other emergency.
- information particular to the borrower or transaction that was relied on in providing the GFE that changes or is found to be inaccurate after the GFE has been provided.
- new information particular to the borrower or transaction that was not relied on in providing the GFE.
- other circumstances that are particular to the borrower or transaction, including boundary disputes, the need for flood insurance, or environmental problems.

Changed circumstances do not include the borrower’s name, the borrower’s monthly income, the property address, an estimate of the property’s value, the mortgage loan amount sought, and any information contained in any credit report obtained by the loan originator before providing the GFE, unless the information changes or is found to be inaccurate after the GFE has been provided. In addition, market price fluctuations by themselves do not constitute changed circumstances.

Changed circumstances affecting settlement costs are those circumstances that result in increased costs for settlement services such that the charges at settlement would exceed the tolerances or limits on those charges established by the regulations.

Changed circumstances affecting the loan are those circumstances that affect the borrower’s eligibility for the loan. For example, if underwriting and verification indicate that the borrower is ineligible for the loan provided in the GFE, the loan originator would no longer be bound by the original GFE. In such cases, if a new GFE is to be provided, the loan originator must do so within three business days of receiving information sufficient to establish changed circumstances. The loan originator must document the reason that a new GFE was provided and must retain documentation of any reasons for providing a new GFE for no less than three years after settlement.

None of the information collected by the loan originator before issuing the GFE may later become the basis for a changed circumstance on which the loan originator may offer a revised GFE, unless the loan originator can demonstrate (1) that there was a change in the particular information; (2) that the information was inaccurate; or (3) that it did not rely on that particular information in issuing the GFE. A loan originator has the burden of demonstrating nonreliance on the collected information, but may do so through various means including through a documented record in the underwriting file or an established policy of relying on a more limited set of information in providing GFEs.

If a loan originator issues a revised GFE based on information previously collected in issuing the original GFE and changed circumstances, the loan originator must document the reasons for issuing the revised GFE, such as its nonreliance on such information or the inaccuracy of such information.

Borrower Requested Changes (12 CFR 1024.7(f)(3))

If a borrower requests changes to the mortgage loan identified in the GFE that change the settlement charges or the terms of the loan, the loan originator may provide a revised GFE to the borrower. If a revised GFE is provided, the loan originator must do so within three business days of the borrower’s request.

Expiration of Original GFE (12 CFR 1024.7(f)(4))

If a borrower does not express intent to continue with an application within 10 business days after the GFE is provided, or such longer time provided by the loan originator, the loan originator is no longer bound by the GFE.

Interest Rate Dependent Charges and Terms (12 CFR 1024.7(f)(5))

If the interest rate has not been locked by the borrower, or a locked interest rate has expired, all interest rate dependent charges on the GFE are subject to change. The charges that may change include the charge or credit for the interest rate chosen, the adjusted origination charges, per diem interest, and loan terms related to the interest rate. The loan originator’s origination charge (listed in Block 1 of page 2 of the GFE), however, is not subject to change, even if the interest rate floats, unless there is another changed circumstance or borrower-requested change.

If the borrower later locks the interest rate, a new GFE must be provided showing the revised interest rate dependent charges and terms. All other charges and terms must remain the same.
as on the original GFE, unless changed circumstances or borrower-requested changes result in increased costs for settlement services or affect the borrower’s eligibility for the specific loan terms identified in the original GFE.

New Home Purchases (12 CFR 1024.7(f)(6))

In transactions involving new construction home purchases in which settlement is expected to occur more than 60 calendar days after a GFE is provided, the loan originator may provide the GFE to the borrower with a clear and conspicuous disclosure stating that at any time up until 60 calendar days before closing, the loan originator may issue a revised GFE. If the loan originator does not provide such a disclosure, it cannot issue a revised GFE except as otherwise provided in Regulation X.

Volume-Based Discounts

The RESPA Reform Rule did not formally address the legality of volume-based discounts. HUD indicated in the preamble to the rule, however, that discounts negotiated between loan originators and other settlement service providers, when the discounts are ultimately passed on to the borrowers in full, are not, depending on the circumstances of a particular transaction, a violation of section 8 of RESPA.19

Uniform Settlement Statement (HUD-1 OR HUD-1A) (12 CFR 1024.8)

Section 4 of RESPA requires the person conducting the settlement (settlement agent) to provide the borrower with a HUD-1 Settlement Statement at or before settlement that clearly itemizes all charges imposed on the buyer and the seller in connection with the settlement. The RESPA Reform rule included revised HUD-1/1A Settlement Statement forms that have been required since January 1, 2010. The HUD-1 is used for transactions in which there is a borrower and seller. For transactions in which there is a borrower and no seller (refinancings and subordinate lien loans), the HUD-1 may be completed by using the borrower’s side of the settlement statement. Alternatively, the HUD-1A may be used.

No settlement statement is required, however, for home equity plans subject to the Truth in Lending Act and Regulation Z. Appendix A to 12 CFR 1024 contains the instructions for completing the forms.

Key RESPA Reform Enhancements to the HUD-1/1A Settlement Statements

Although the RESPA Reform Rule did not include any substantive changes to the first page of the HUD-1/1A forms, there were changes to the second page of the forms to facilitate comparison between the HUD-1/1A and the GFE. Each designated line on the second page of the revised HUD-1/1A includes a reference to the relevant line from the GFE.

With respect to disclosure of “no cost” loans when “no cost” refers only to the loan originator’s fees (see section L, subsection 800 of the HUD-1 form), the amounts shown for the origination charge and the credit or charge for the interest rate chosen should offset, so that the adjusted origination charge is zero.

In the case of a “no cost” loan when “no cost” encompasses loan originator and third-party fees, all third-party fees must be itemized and listed in the borrower’s column on the HUD-1/1A. These itemized charges must be offset with a negative adjusted origination charge (line 803) and recorded in the columns.

The revised HUD-1 includes a new third page (second page of the HUD-1A) that allows borrowers to compare the loan terms and settlement charges listed on the GFE with the terms and charges listed on the closing statement.

The first half of the third page includes a comparison chart that sets forth the settlement charges from the GFE and the settlement charges from the HUD-1 to allow the borrower to determine whether the settlement charges exceed the charges stated on the GFE. If any charges at settlement exceed the charges listed on the GFE by more than the permitted tolerances, the loan originator may cure the tolerance violation by reimbursing to the borrower the amount by which the tolerance was exceeded. A borrower is deemed to have received timely reimbursement if the financial institution delivers or places the payment in the mail within 30 calendar days after settlement.

Inadvertent or technical errors on the settlement statement are not deemed to be a violation of section 4 of RESPA if a revised HUD-1/1A is provided to the borrower within 30 calendar days after settlement.

The second half of the third page sets forth the loan terms for the loan received at settlement in a format that reflects the summary of loan terms on the first page of the GFE, but with additional loan related information that would be available at closing. The note at the bottom of the page indicates that the borrower should contact the lender if the borrower has questions about the settlement charges or loan terms listed on the form.

Section 1024.8(b) and the instructions for completing the HUD-1/1A Settlement Statement state that the loan originator shall transmit sufficient information to the settlement agent to allow the settlement agent to complete the “loan terms” section. The loan originator must provide the information in a format that permits the settlement agent to enter the information in the appropriate spaces on the HUD-1/1A, without having to refer to the loan documents.

Average Charge Permitted

As of January 16, 2009, an average charge may be stated on the HUD-1/1A if the average charge is computed in accordance with 12 CFR 1024.8(b)(2). All settlement service providers, including loan originators, are permitted to list the average charge for a settlement service on the HUD-1/1A Settlement Statements (and on the GFE) rather than the exact cost for that service.

The method of determining the average charge is left up to the settlement service provider. The average charge may be used as the charge for any third-party vendor charge, not for the provider’s own internal charges. The average charge also cannot be used when the charge is based on the loan amount or the value of the property.

The average charge may be used for any third-party settlement service, provided that the total amounts received from borrowers for that service for a particular class of transactions do not exceed the total amounts paid to providers of that service for that class of transactions. A class of transactions may be defined based on the period of time, type of loan, and geographic area. If an average charge is used in any class of transactions defined by the loan originator, then the loan originator must use the same average charge for every transaction within that class. The average charge must be recalculated at least every six months.

A settlement service provider that uses an average charge for a particular service must maintain all documents used to calculate the average charge for at least three years after any settlement in which the average charge was used.

Printing and Duplication of the Settlement Statement (12 CFR 1024.9)

Financial institutions have numerous options for layout and format in reproducing the HUD-1 and HUD-1A that do not require prior CFPB approval. This includes size of pages; tint or color of pages; size and style of type or print; spacing; printing on separate pages, front and back of a single page, or on one continuous page; use of multi-copy tear-out sets; printing on rolls for computer purposes; addition of signature lines; and translation into any language. Other changes may be made only with the CFPB’s approval.

One-Day Advance Inspection of the Settlement Statement (12 CFR 1024.10)

Upon request by the borrower, the HUD-1 or HUD-1A must be completed and made available for inspection during the business day immediately preceding the day of settlement, setting forth those items known at that time by the person conducting the closing.

Delivery (12 CFR 1024.10(a) and (b))

The completed HUD-1 or HUD-1A must be mailed or delivered to the borrower, the seller (if there is one), the lender (if the lender is not the settlement agent), and/or their agents at or before settlement. The borrower may waive the right of delivery, however, by executing a written waiver at or before settlement. The HUD-1 or HUD-1A shall be mailed or delivered as soon as practicable after settlement if the borrower or borrower’s agent does not attend the settlement.
Retention (12 CFR 1024.10(e))

A lender must retain each completed HUD-1 or HUD-1A and related documents for five years after settlement, unless the lender disposes of its interest in the mortgage and does not service the mortgage. If the loan is transferred, the lender shall provide a copy of the HUD-1 or HUD-1A to the owner or servicer of the mortgage as part of the transfer. The owner or servicer shall retain the HUD-1 or HUD-1A for the remainder of the five-year period.

Prohibition of Fees for Preparing Federal Disclosures
(12 CFR 1024.12)

For loans subject to RESPA, no fee may be charged for preparing the Settlement Statement or the Escrow Account statement or any disclosures required by the Truth in Lending Act.

Prohibition Against Kickbacks and Unearned Fees
(12 CFR 1024.14)

Any person who gives or accepts a fee, kickback, or thing of value (payments, commissions, gifts, tangible item, or special privileges) for the referral of settlement business is in violation of section 8(a) of RESPA. Any person who gives or accepts any portion, split, or percentage of a charge for real estate settlement services, other than for services actually performed, is in violation of section 8(b) of RESPA. Appendix B of Regulation X provides guidance on the meaning and coverage of the prohibition against kickbacks and unearned fees.

RESPA section 8(b) is not violated when a single party charges and retains a settlement service fee, and that fee is unearned or excessive.

Penalties and Liabilities

Civil and criminal liability is provided for violating the prohibition against kickbacks and unearned fees, including

- civil liability to the parties affected, equal to three times the amount of any charge paid for such settlement service.
- the possibility that the costs associated with any court proceeding together with reasonable attorney’s fees could be recovered.
- a fine of not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year or both.20

Affiliated Business Arrangements (12 CFR 1024.15)

If a loan originator (or an associate)21 has either an affiliate relationship or a direct or beneficial ownership interest of more than 1 percent in a provider of settlement services and

the loan originator directly or indirectly refers business to the provider or affirmatively influences the selection of that provider, it is an affiliated business arrangement. An affiliated business arrangement is not a violation of section 8 of RESPA and of 12 CFR 1024.14 of Regulation X if the following conditions are satisfied.

Before the referral, the person making each referral has provided to each person whose business is referred an Affiliated Business Arrangement Disclosure Statement (appendix D of Regulation X). This disclosure shall specify the following:

- The nature of the relationship (explaining the ownership and financial interest) between the provider and the loan originator.
- The estimated charge or range of charges generally made by such provider.

This disclosure must be provided on a separate piece of paper either at the time of loan application, or with the GFE, or at the time of the referral.

The loan originator may not require the use of such a provider, with the following exceptions: the institution may require a buyer, borrower, or seller to pay for the services of an attorney, credit reporting agency, or real estate appraiser chosen by the institution to represent its interest.

The loan originator may only receive a return on ownership or franchise interest or payment otherwise permitted by RESPA.

Title Companies (12 CFR 1024.16)

Sellers that hold legal title to the property being sold are prohibited from requiring borrowers, either directly or indirectly, as a condition to selling the property, to purchase title insurance from a particular title company.\(^\text{22}\)

Escrow Accounts (12 CFR 1024.17)

On October 26, 1994, HUD issued its final rule changing the accounting method for escrow accounts.\(^\text{23}\) The rule establishes a national standard accounting method, known as aggregate accounting. The final rule, which was originally effective April 24, 1995, also established formats and procedures for initial and annual escrow account statements.

\(^{21}\) An “associate” is one who has one or more of the following relationships with a person or institution in a position to refer settlement business: a spouse, parent, or child of such person; a corporation or business entity that controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with the institution; an employer, officer, director, partner, franchisor, or franchisee of the institution; or anyone with an arrangement with the person or institution that enables the person to refer settlement business and benefit financially from the referrals (12 USC 2602(8)).

\(^{22}\) 12 USC 2608.

The amount of escrow funds that can be collected at settlement or on creation of an escrow account is restricted to an amount sufficient to pay charges, such as taxes and insurance, that are attributable to the period from the date such payments were last paid until the initial payment date. Throughout the life of an escrow account, the servicer generally may charge the borrower a monthly sum equal to one-twelfth of the total annual escrow payments that the servicer reasonably anticipates paying from the account. In addition, the servicer generally may add an amount to maintain a cushion no greater than one-sixth of the estimated total annual payments from the account.

Escrow Account Analysis (12 CFR 1024.17(c)(2) and (3) and 12 CFR 1024.17(k))

Before establishing an escrow account, a servicer must conduct an analysis to determine the periodic payments and the amount to be deposited. The servicer shall use an escrow disbursement date that is on or before the deadline to avoid a penalty and may make annual lump sum payments to take advantage of a discount.

Transfer of Servicing (12 CFR 1024.17(e))

If a new servicer changes either the monthly payment amount or the accounting method used by the old servicer, then it must provide the borrower with an initial escrow account statement within 60 days of the date of transfer. When the new servicer provides an initial escrow account statement, it shall use the effective date of the transfer of servicing to establish the new escrow account computation year. In addition, if the new servicer retains the monthly payments and accounting method used by the old servicer, then the new servicer may continue to use the same computation year established by the old servicer or it may choose a different one, using a short-year statement.

Shortages, Surpluses, and Deficiency Requirements (12 CFR 1024.17(f))

The servicer shall conduct an annual escrow account analysis to determine whether a surplus, shortage, or deficiency exists as defined under 12 CFR 1024.17(b).

If the escrow account analysis discloses a surplus (an amount by which the current escrow account balance exceeds the target balance for the account), the servicer shall within 30 days from the date of the analysis, refund the surplus to the borrower if the surplus is greater than or equal to $50. If the surplus is less than $50, the servicer may refund such amount to the borrower, or credit such amount against the next year’s escrow payments. These provisions apply as long as the borrower’s mortgage payment is current at the time of the escrow account analysis.

A “shortage” is an amount by which the current escrow account balance falls short of the target balance at the time of the escrow analysis.
If the escrow account analysis discloses a shortage of less than one month’s escrow payment, then the servicer has three possible courses of action:

- Servicer may allow the shortage to exist and do nothing to change it.
- Servicer may require the borrower to repay the shortage amount within 30 days.
- Servicer may require the borrower to repay the shortage amount in equal monthly payments over at least a 12-month period.

If the shortage is more than or equal to one month’s escrow payment, then the servicer has two possible courses of action:

- Servicer may allow the shortage to exist and do nothing to change it.
- Servicer may require the borrower to repay the shortage in equal monthly payments over at least a 12-month period.

If the escrow account analysis discloses a deficiency (the amount of a negative balance in an escrow account), then the servicer may require the borrower to pay additional monthly deposits to the account to eliminate the deficiency.

If the deficiency is less than one month’s escrow account payment, then there are three possible options:

- Servicer may allow the deficiency to exist and do nothing to change it.
- Servicer may require the borrower to repay the deficiency within 30 days.
- Servicer may require the borrower to repay the deficiency in two or more equal monthly payments.

If the deficiency is greater than or equal to one month’s escrow payment, the servicer may allow the deficiency to exist and do nothing to change it, or require the borrower to repay the deficiency in two or more equal monthly payments.

These provisions apply as long as the borrower’s mortgage payment is current at the time of the escrow account analysis.

A servicer must notify the borrower at least once during the escrow account computation year if a shortage or deficiency exists in the account. The notice may be part of the annual escrow account statement or it may be a separate document.

Initial Escrow Account Statement (12 CFR 1024.17(g))

After analyzing each escrow account, the servicer must submit an initial escrow account statement to the borrower at settlement or within 45 calendar days of settlement for escrow accounts that are established as a condition of the loan.

The initial escrow account statement must include the monthly mortgage payment; the portion going to escrow; an itemization of estimated taxes, insurance premiums, and other Charges; the anticipated disbursement dates of those charges; the amount of the cushion; and a trial running balance.

Annual Escrow Account Statement (12 CFR 1024.17(i))

A servicer shall submit to the borrower an annual statement for each escrow account within 30 days of the completion of the computation year. The servicer must conduct an escrow account analysis before submitting an annual escrow account statement to the borrower.

The annual escrow account statements must contain an itemization of the account history and projections for the next year, including: the current mortgage payment and portion going to escrow; amount of the past year’s monthly mortgage payment and the portion that went into the escrow account; total amount paid into the escrow account during the past year; amount paid from the account for taxes, insurance premiums, and other charges; balance at the end of the period; explanation of how the surplus, shortage, or deficiency is being handled; and, if applicable, the reasons that the estimated low monthly balance was not reached.

Short-Year Statements (12 CFR 1024.17(i)(4))

Short-year statements can be issued to end the escrow-account computation year and establish the beginning date of a new computation year. Short-year statements may be provided on the transfer of servicing and are required on loan payoff. The statement is due to the borrower within 60 days after receiving the pay-off funds.

Timely Payments (12 CFR 1024.17(k))

The servicer must pay escrow disbursements by the disbursement date. In calculating the disbursement date, the servicer must use a date on or before the deadline to avoid a penalty and may make annual lump sum payments to take advantage of a discount. The 2013 amendments include a requirement that a servicer may not purchase force-placed insurance for a borrower with an escrow account unless the servicer is unable to disburse funds from the borrower’s escrow account to maintain the borrower’s hazard insurance. A servicer is unable to disburse funds only if the servicer has a reasonable basis to believe that either the borrower’s property is vacant or the borrower’s hazard insurance has terminated for reasons other than non-payment. A servicer is not considered unable to disburse funds from the borrower’s escrow account solely because the account is deficient. If a servicer advances funds to an escrow account to ensure that the borrower’s hazard insurance premium charges are paid in a timely manner, a servicer may seek repayment from the borrower for the funds the servicer advanced, unless otherwise prohibited by applicable law.

24 Advisory Letter 98-15, “Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act (RESPA), Escrow Accounts”. RESPA and its implementing regulation require a mortgage servicer to make disbursements from a customer’s escrow account in a timely manner so long as the borrower’s payment is not more than 30 days overdue. The regulation defines “disbursements in a timely manner” to mean “on or before the deadline to avoid a penalty.” (12 USC 2605(g) and 24 CFR 3500.17(k)).
The 2013 amendments include a limited exemption from the restriction on force-placed insurance purchases for small servicers. Subject to the requirements of section 1024.37, small servicers may purchase force-placed insurance and charge the borrower for the cost of that insurance if the cost to the borrower is less than the amount the small servicer would need to disburse from the borrower’s escrow account to ensure timely payment of the borrower’s hazard insurance premium charges.

A financial institution qualifies as a small servicer if the institution either

- services, together with any affiliates, 5,000 or fewer mortgage loans, as that term is used in 12 CFR 1026.41(a)(1), for all of which the institution (or an affiliate) is the creditor or assignee;
- is a Housing Finance Agency, as defined in 24 CFR 266.5; or
- is a nonprofit entity that services 5,000 or fewer mortgage loans, including any mortgage loans serviced on behalf of associated nonprofit entities, for all of which the servicer or an associated nonprofit entity is the creditor (12 CFR 1026.41(e)(4)(ii)).

The determination as to whether a servicer qualifies as a small servicer is made based on the mortgage loans, as that term is used in 12 CFR 1026.41(a)(1), serviced by the servicer and any affiliates as of January 1 for the remainder of that calendar year, except with respect to nonprofit entities, this determination is made solely with respect to loans serviced by the nonprofit servicer (and does not include any loans serviced by affiliates). A servicer that ceases to qualify as a small servicer has six months from the time it ceases to qualify or until the next January 1, whichever is later, to comply with any requirements for which a servicer is no longer exempt. The following mortgage loans are not considered in determining whether a servicer qualifies as a small servicer: (1) mortgage loans voluntarily serviced by the servicer for a creditor or assignee that is not an affiliate of the servicer and for which the servicer does not receive any compensation; (2) reverse mortgage transactions; and (3) mortgage loans secured by consumers’ interests in timeshare plans (12 CFR 1026.41(e)(4)(iii)).

List of Homeownership Counseling Organizations
(12 CFR 1024.20)

For any application for a federally related mortgage loan (except for applications for reverse mortgages or timeshare loans), the lender must provide a loan applicant with a clear and conspicuous written list of homeownership counseling services in the loan applicant’s location, no later than three business days after a lender, mortgage broker, or dealer receives an application or information sufficient to complete an application.

The list is available on the CFPB’s Web site or from data made available by the CFPB or HUD. Lenders must make sure that the list of homeownership counseling services was obtained no earlier than 30 days before they provide it to the applicant. This list may be combined with other disclosures (unless otherwise prohibited by Regulation X or Regulation Z). A mortgage broker or dealer that receives a loan application, or that prepares an application, may provide the list, in which case the lender is not required to provide an additional list, though in all cases the lender remains responsible for ensuring that the list is provided to the applicant. The list may be provided in person, by mail, or by other means. The list may be provided in electronic form, subject to compliance with the consumer consent and other applicable provisions of E-Sign.

If, before the three-day period ends, the lender denies the application or the applicant withdraws it, the lender does not have to provide the list. If the transaction involves more than one lender, the lenders should agree which of them will provide the list. If there is more than one applicant, the list can go to any one of them that has primary liability on the loan.

Subpart C—Mortgage Servicing

Scope (12 CFR 1024.30)

Except as otherwise noted in this section, the provisions of subpart C—Mortgage Servicing, 12 CFR 1024.30-41, apply to any mortgage loan, as that term is defined in 12 CFR 1024.31.

Definitions (12 CFR 1024.31)

The 2013 amendments added several definitions that are applicable to subpart C—Mortgage Servicing, 12 CFR 1024.30-41. Among other definitions, amended Regulation X provides that “mortgage loan” means “any federally related mortgage loan, as that term is defined in section 1024.2 subject to the exemptions in section 1024.5(b), but does not include open-end lines of credit (home equity plans).” Thus, the term “mortgage loan” includes (but is not limited to) refinancing transactions, whether secured by a senior or subordinate lien.

General Disclosure Requirements (12 CFR 1024.32)

Disclosure Requirements (12 CFR 1024.32(a))

Disclosures required under 12 CFR 1024.30-1024.41 must be clear and conspicuous, in writing, and in a form that a recipient may keep. The disclosures may be provided in electronic form, subject to consumer consent and the provisions of E-Sign, and a servicer may use commonly accepted or readily understandable abbreviations. Disclosures may be made in a language other than English, provided that they are made in English on a recipient’s request.

Additional Information, Disclosures Required by Other Laws (12 CFR 1024.32(b))

Servicers may include additional information in disclosures required under 12 CFR 1024.30-41 or combine these disclosures with any disclosure required by other law unless doing so is

---

expressly prohibited by 12 CFR 1024.30-41, by other applicable law (such as the Truth in Lending Act or Truth in Savings Act), or by the terms of an agreement with a federal or state regulatory agency.

Mortgage Servicing Transfer Disclosures (12 CFR 1024.33)

The disclosures related to the transfer of mortgage servicing generally are required for any mortgage loan, as that term is defined in 12 CFR 1024.31, except that the servicing disclosure statement required under 12 CFR 1024.33(a) is required only for loans secured by a first lien.

Servicing Disclosure Statement (12 CFR 1024.33(a))

A financial institution that receives an application for a first-lien mortgage loan is required to provide the servicing disclosure statement to the borrower within three days (excluding legal public holidays, Saturdays, and Sundays) after receipt of the application. The disclosure statement must advise whether the servicing of the mortgage loan may be assigned, sold, or transferred to any other person at any time. A model disclosure statement is set forth in appendix MS-1 of the RESPA regulation.

If the financial institution denies the borrower’s application within the three-day period, it is not required to provide the disclosure statement.

As previously noted, this disclosure statement is required only for loans that are secured by a first lien.

Notices of Transfer of Loan Servicing (12 CFR 1024.33(b))

When any mortgage loan, as that term is defined in 12 CFR 1024.31, is assigned, sold, or transferred, the transferor (former servicer) generally must provide a disclosure at least 15 days before the effective date of the transfer. Generally, a transfer of servicing notice from the transferee (new servicer) must be provided not more than 15 days after the effective date of the transfer. Generally, both notices may be combined into one notice if delivered to the borrower at least 15 days before the effective date of the transfer. Notices provided at the time of settlement satisfy the timing requirements.

The disclosure must include the following:

- Effective date of the transfer.
- Name, address, and toll-free or collect-call telephone number for an employee or department of the transferee servicer that the borrower can contact to obtain answers to servicing transfer inquiries.
- Name, address, and toll-free or collect-call telephone number for an employee or department of the transferor servicer that the borrower can contact to obtain answers to servicing transfer inquiries.
• Date on which the transferor servicer ceases to accept payments relating to the loan, and date on which the transferee servicer begins accepting such payments. The dates must be the same or consecutive dates.
• Whether the transfer affects the terms or the availability of optional insurance and any action the borrower must take to maintain such coverage.
• A statement that the transfer does not affect the terms or conditions of the mortgage (except as directly related to servicing).

The 2013 amendments modified the disclosure in appendix MS-2 that servicers may use to comply with the mortgage servicing transfer disclosure.

The following transfers are not considered an assignment, sale, or transfer of mortgage loan servicing for purposes of this requirement if there is no change in the payee, address to which payment must be delivered, account number, or amount of payment due:

• Transfers between affiliates.
• Transfers resulting from mergers or acquisitions of servicers or subservicers.
• Transfers between master servicers, when the subservicer remains the same.

Additionally, the FHA is not required to provide a notice of transfer to the borrower when a mortgage insured under the National Housing Act is assigned to FHA.

Borrower Payments During Transfer of Servicing (12 CFR 1024.33(c))

During the 60-day period beginning on the date of transfer, no late fee or other penalty can be imposed on a borrower who has made a timely payment to the transferor servicer (former servicer). Additionally, if the transferor servicer (former servicer) receives any incorrect payments on or after the effective date of the transfer, the transferor servicer must either transfer the payment to the transferee servicer (new servicer) or return the payment and inform the payer of the proper recipient of the payment.

Timely Escrow Payments and Treatment of Escrow Account Balances (12 CFR 1024.34)

Servicers must comply with requirements concerning the treatment of escrow funds, which apply to any mortgage loan, as that term is defined in 12 CFR 1024.31.

If the terms of a mortgage loan require the borrower to make payments to the servicer for deposit into an escrow account to pay taxes, insurance premiums, and other charges, the servicer shall make payments from the escrow account in a timely manner. A payment is made in a timely manner if it is made on or before the deadline to avoid a penalty.

Generally, the servicer must return any amounts remaining in escrow within the servicer’s control within 20 days (excluding legal public holidays, Saturdays, and Sundays) after the borrower pays the mortgage loan in full, unless the borrower and servicer agree to credit the remaining funds toward an escrow account for certain new mortgage loans. The rule does not prohibit servicers from netting any funds remaining in an escrow account against the outstanding balance of the borrower’s mortgage loan.

Error Resolution Procedures (12 CFR 1024.35)

Servicers must comply with error resolution procedures that are triggered when a borrower submits an error notice to the servicer. The requirements set forth in 12 CFR 1024.35 apply to any mortgage loan, as that term is defined in 12 CFR 1024.31.

The CFPB has issued an advisory opinion clarifying that, because borrowers initiate the error resolution process, a servicer’s communications with a borrower regarding an error notice are not subject to the “cease communication” provision of the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (FDCPA) unless the borrower specifically withdraws the request for action regarding the error.26

Notice of Error (12 CFR 1024.35(a))

An error notice must be in writing and identify the borrower’s name, information that allows the servicer to identify the borrower’s account, and the alleged error. A qualified written request that asserts an error relating to the servicing of a mortgage loan is an error notice, and the servicer must comply with all of the error notice requirements with respect to such qualified written request.

The commentary to the regulation clarifies that a servicer should not rely solely on the borrower’s description of a submission to determine whether it is an error notice, an information request, or both. For example, a borrower may submit a letter titled “Notice of Error” that indicates that the borrower wants to receive the information set forth in an annual escrow account statement and asserts an error for the servicer’s failure to provide that statement. Such a letter could be both an error notice and an information request, and the servicer must evaluate whether the letter fulfills the substantive requirements of an error notice, information request, or both.

Scope of Error Resolution (12 CFR 1024.35(b))

The error resolution procedures apply to the following alleged errors:

- Failure to accept a payment that complies with the servicer’s written requirements.
- Failure to apply an accepted payment to principal, interest, escrow, or other charges as required by the mortgage loan and applicable law.
- Failure to credit a payment to the borrower’s account as of the date the servicer received it, as required by 12 CFR 1026.36(c)(1).

• Failure to pay taxes, insurance premiums, or other charges by the due date, as required by 12 CFR 1024.34(a).
• Failure to refund an escrow account balance within 20 days (excluding legal public holidays, Saturdays, and Sundays) after the borrower pays the mortgage loan in full, as required by 12 CFR 1024.34(b).
• Imposition of a fee or charge without a reasonable basis to do so.
• Failure to provide an accurate payoff balance amount on the borrower’s request, as required by 12 CFR 1026.36(c)(3).
• Failure to provide accurate information to a borrower regarding loss mitigation options and foreclosure, as required by 12 CFR 1024.39.
• Failure to transfer accurate and timely information relating to servicing to a transferee servicer.
• Making the first notice or filing for a judicial or non-judicial foreclosure process before the time periods allowed by 12 CFR 1024.41(f) and (j).
• Moving for foreclosure judgment or order of sale or conducting a foreclosure sale in violation of 12 CFR 1024.41(g) or (j).
• Any other error relating to the servicing of a borrower’s mortgage loan.

The commentary gives examples of errors not covered by 12 CFR 1024.35(b) such as errors relating to: (1) the origination of a mortgage loan; (2) the underwriting of a mortgage loan; (3) a subsequent sale or securitization of a mortgage loan; and (4) a determination to sell, assign, or transfer the servicing of a mortgage loan (unless it concerns the failure to transfer accurate and timely information relating to the servicing of the borrower’s mortgage loan account to a transferee servicer).

Contact Information (12 CFR 1024.35(c))

If the servicer establishes an address to which borrowers must send error notices, the servicer must provide written notice of the address to the borrowers with specified content. The commentary states that the servicer must also include this address on the following communications: (1) any periodic statement or coupon book required under 12 CFR 1026.41; (2) any Web site the servicer maintains in connection with the servicing of the loan; and (3) any notice required pursuant to section 1024.39 (early intervention) or section 1024.41 (loss mitigation) that includes contact information for assistance. The servicer must use the same address for receiving information requests under 12 CFR 1024.36(b), and provide written notice to the borrower before changing the address to which the borrower must send error notices.

Acknowledgment of Receipt (12 CFR 1024.35(d))

The servicer generally must provide a written acknowledgment to the borrower within five days (excluding legal public holidays, Saturdays, and Sundays) after receiving the error notice.
Response to an Error Notice (12 CFR 1024.35(e))

A servicer generally has 30 days (excluding legal public holidays, Saturdays, and Sundays) from receipt of the error notice to investigate and respond to the notice. A servicer may extend this period by an additional 15 days (excluding legal public holidays, Saturdays, and Sundays) if, before expiration of the original 30-day period, the servicer notifies the borrower in writing of the extension and the reasons for it.

A servicer must respond within seven days (excluding legal public holidays, Saturdays, and Sundays) if the alleged error is a failure to provide an accurate payoff balance amount. The servicer must respond by the earlier of 30 days (excluding legal public holidays, Saturdays, and Sundays) or the date of a foreclosure sale if the error involves either (i) making the first notice or filing for a judicial or non-judicial foreclosure process before the time periods allowed by 12 CFR 1024.41(f) or (j), or (ii) moving for foreclosure judgment or order of sale or conducting a foreclosure sale in violation of 12 CFR 1024.41(g) or (j).

In response to the notice of error, the servicer must either correct the error or conduct a reasonable investigation and determine that no error occurred. The servicer must also send a written response to the borrower that accomplishes one of the following:

• If the servicer corrects the alleged error. The servicer must advise the borrower of the correction and when the correction took effect, and provide contact information, including phone number, for further assistance.

• If the servicer determines that it committed an error or errors different than or in addition to those identified by the borrower. The servicer must correct the error and advise the borrower of the correction and when the correction took effect, and provide contact information, including phone number, for further assistance.

• If the servicer determines after a reasonable investigation that no error occurred. The servicer must state that it determined that no error occurred, the reasons for its determination, and the borrower’s right to request documents relied on by the servicer in reaching its determination and how the borrower can make such a request, and provide contact information, including phone number, for further assistance. If the borrower requests those documents, the servicer generally must provide them within 15 days (excluding legal public holidays, Saturdays, and Sundays) at no cost to the borrower. The servicer need not provide documents that constitute confidential, proprietary, or privileged information.

As a part of its investigation of the asserted error, the servicer may request supporting documentation from the borrower, but the servicer must conduct a reasonable investigation even if the borrower does not provide supporting documentation.

Early Correction or Error Asserted Before Foreclosure Sale (12 CFR 1024.35(f))

A servicer is not required to provide the five-day acknowledgment notice (12 CFR 1024.35(d)) or the response notice (12 CFR 1024.35(e)) if the servicer either
• corrects the asserted errors and notifies the borrower of the correction within five days (excluding legal public holidays, Saturdays, and Sundays) after receiving the error notice; or
• receives the error notice seven or fewer days before a foreclosure sale and the asserted error concerns the timing of the foreclosure process under section 1024.35(b)(9) or (10). In this instance, the servicer must make a good faith attempt to respond to the borrower, either orally or in writing, and either correct the error or state the reason the servicer has determined that no error occurred.

Requirements Not Applicable (12 CFR 1024.35(g))

A servicer does not need to provide the five-day acknowledgment notice (12 CFR 1024.35(d)), provide the response notice (12 CFR 1024.35(e)), or refrain from providing adverse information to credit reporting agencies for 60 days (12 CFR 1024.35(i)), if the servicer reasonably determines any of the following apply:

- Duplicative notice of error. The asserted error is substantially the same as a previously asserted error for which the servicer complied with the obligation to respond, unless the borrower provides new and material information to support the asserted error. New and material information is information that is reasonably likely to change the servicer’s prior determination about the error.
- Overbroad notice of error. The error notice is overbroad if the servicer cannot reasonably determine the specific alleged error. The commentary provides examples of overbroad notices, including those that assert errors regarding substantially all aspects of the mortgage loan (including origination, servicing, and foreclosure), notices that resemble legal pleadings and demand a response to each numbered paragraph, or notices that are not reasonably understandable or contain voluminous tangential information such that a servicer cannot reasonably identify from the notice any error that requires a response. Note that if a servicer concludes an error notice as submitted is overbroad, the servicer must still provide a five-day acknowledgment notice and a subsequent response to the extent the servicer can identify valid assertion of an error in the submission.
- Untimely notice of error. The error notice is sent more than one year after either the mortgage loan was discharged or the servicer receiving the notice of error transferred the mortgage loan to another servicer. For purposes of this provision, a mortgage loan is discharged when both the debt and all corresponding liens have been extinguished or released, as applicable.

If a servicer determines that any of these three exceptions apply, it must provide written notice to the borrower within five days (excluding legal public holidays, Saturdays, and Sundays) after making that determination, including the basis relied on.

Payment Requirements Prohibited (12 CFR 1024.35(h))

A servicer may not charge a fee or require a borrower to make any payments as a condition to responding to an error notice.
Effect on Servicer Remedies (12 CFR 1024.35(i))

In the 60-day period after receiving an error notice, a servicer may not furnish adverse information to any consumer-reporting agency regarding any payment that is the subject of the error notice.

Requests for Information (12 CFR 1024.36)

Servicers must follow certain procedures in response to a borrower’s written request for information with respect to the borrower’s mortgage loan. The request must include the borrower’s name, information that allows the servicer to identify the borrower’s account, and the requested information related to the borrower’s mortgage loan. The request can be from the borrower or the borrower’s agent; a servicer may undertake reasonable procedures to determine if an alleged agent has authority from the borrower to act as the borrower’s agent. A qualified written request that requests information relating to the servicing of a mortgage loan is an information request, and the servicer must comply with all of the information request requirements with respect to such a qualified written request.

The requirements set forth in 12 CFR 1024.36 apply to any mortgage loan, as that term is defined in 12 CFR 1024.31.

The CFPB has issued an advisory opinion clarifying that, because borrowers initiate requests for information, a servicer’s communications with a borrower regarding such a request for information are not subject to the FDCPA’s “cease communication” provision, unless the borrower specifically withdraws the information request.27

Contact Information (12 CFR 1024.36(b))

If the servicer establishes an address to which borrowers must send information requests, the servicer must provide written notice of the address to the borrower with specified information. The commentary states that the servicer must also include this address on the following communications: (i) any periodic statement or coupon book required under 12 CFR 1026.41; (ii) any Web site the servicer maintains in connection with the servicing of the loan; and (iii) any notice required pursuant to section 1024.39 (early intervention) or section 1024.41 (loss mitigation) that includes contact information for assistance. The servicer must use the same address for receiving error notices under 12 CFR 1024.35(b), and provide written notice to the borrower before changing the address to which the borrower must send information requests.

---

Acknowledgment of Receipt (12 CFR 1024.36(c))

The servicer generally must provide a written acknowledgment to the borrower within five days (excluding legal public holidays, Saturdays, and Sundays) after receiving the information request.

Response to Information Request (12 CFR 1024.36(d))

A servicer generally must respond in writing to an information request within 30 days (excluding legal public holidays, Saturdays, and Sundays) of receipt. A servicer may extend this period by an additional 15 days (excluding legal public holidays, Saturdays, and Sundays) if, before the expiration of the original 30-day period, the servicer notifies the borrower in writing of the extension and the reasons for it. A servicer must respond within 10 days (excluding legal public holidays, Saturdays, and Sundays) after receiving a request for the identity or contact information for the owner or assignee of a mortgage loan.

The servicer must respond in writing by either

- providing the requested information and contact information, including phone number, for further assistance; or
- conducting a reasonable search for the information and advising the borrower that the servicer has determined that the requested information is not available to the servicer, the basis for the servicer’s determination, and contact information, including phone number, for further assistance.

Information is not available if it is not in the servicer’s control or possession, or the servicer cannot retrieve it in the ordinary course of business through reasonable efforts. The commentary gives examples of when information is or is not available.

Early Response (12 CFR 1024.36(e))

The five-day receipt acknowledgment (12 CFR 1024.36(c)) and the response (12 CFR 1024.36(d)) requirements do not apply if the servicer provides the requested information and contact information, including phone number, for further assistance within five days (excluding legal public holidays, Saturdays, and Sundays) after receiving the information request.

Requirement Not Applicable (12 CFR 1024.36(f))

The five-day receipt acknowledgment (12 CFR 1024.36(c)) and the response notice (12 CFR 1024.36(d)) requirements also do not apply if the servicer reasonably determines any of the following exceptions apply:

- The information requested is substantially the same information that the borrower previously requested.
- The information requested is confidential, proprietary, or privileged.
• The information requested is not directly related to the borrower’s mortgage loan account. The commentary provides examples of irrelevant information, including information related to the servicing of mortgage loans other than the borrower’s loan and investor instructions or requirements for servicers regarding the negotiation or approval of loss mitigation options.

• The information request is overbroad or unduly burdensome. A request is overbroad if the borrower requests that the servicer provide an unreasonable volume of documents or information. A request is unduly burdensome if a diligent servicer could not respond within the time periods set forth in 12 CFR 1024.36(d)(2) or would incur costs (or have to dedicate resources) that would be unreasonable in light of the circumstances. The commentary provides examples of overbroad or unduly burdensome requests, such as requests that seek documents relating to substantially all aspects of mortgage origination, mortgage servicing, mortgage sale or securitization, and foreclosure, as well as requests that require servicers to provide information in a specific format or seek information that is not reasonably likely to assist the borrower. If an information request as submitted is overbroad or unduly burdensome, the servicer must still provide the five-day acknowledgment of receipt and subsequent response if the servicer can reasonably identify a valid information request within the submission.

• The information request is sent more than one year after either the mortgage loan was discharged or the servicer receiving the information request transferred the mortgage loan to another servicer. For purposes of this provision, a mortgage loan is discharged when both the debt and all corresponding liens have been extinguished or released, as applicable.

If a servicer determines that any of these five exceptions apply, it must provide written notice to the borrower within five days (excluding legal public holidays, Saturdays, and Sundays) after making that determination, including the basis relied on.

Payment Requirement Limitations (12 CFR 1024.36(g))

A servicer generally may not charge a fee, or require a borrower to make any payment that may be owed on a borrower’s account, as a condition of responding to an information request. A servicer may charge for providing a beneficiary notice under applicable state law, if such a fee is not otherwise prohibited by applicable law.

Force-Placed Insurance (12 CFR 1024.37)

Servicers must comply with restrictions on obtaining and assessing charges and fees for force-placed insurance, defined as hazard insurance that a servicer obtains on behalf of the owner or assignee to insure the property securing the mortgage loan (but does not include: (i) flood insurance required by the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973, (ii) hazard insurance obtained by a borrower but renewed by the borrower’s servicer in accordance with 12 CFR 1024.17(k)(1), (2), or (5), or (iii) hazard insurance obtained by a borrower but renewed by the borrower’s servicer with the borrower’s agreement). The requirements set forth in 12 CFR 1024.37 apply to any mortgage loan as that term is defined in 12 CFR 1024.31.
The CFPB has issued an advisory opinion clarifying that, because Dodd–Frank specifically mandates certain disclosures regarding force-placed insurance without any mention of the FDCPA’s “cease communication” provisions, a servicer acting as a debt collector does not violate the FDCPA’s “cease communication” provision by providing the notices required under section 1024.37.

Requirements Before Charging for Force-Placed Insurance
(12 CFR 1024.37(b), (c), (d))

Servicers may not assess charges or fees for force-placed insurance unless the servicer satisfies four requirements.

First, the servicer must have a reasonable basis to believe that the borrower has failed to maintain required hazard insurance. The commentary states that information about a borrower’s hazard insurance received by the servicer from the borrower, the borrower’s insurance provider, or the borrower’s insurance agent, may provide a servicer with a reasonable basis. If a servicer receives no such information, the servicer may satisfy the reasonable basis standard if the servicer acts with reasonable diligence to ascertain the borrower’s hazard insurance status and does not receive evidence of hazard insurance.

Second, the servicer must mail or deliver an initial written notice to the borrower at least 45 days before assessing a charge or fee related to force-placed insurance. The servicer’s notice must identify the following:

- Date of the notice.
- Servicer’s name and mailing address.
- Borrower’s name and mailing address.
- Statement requesting that the borrower provide hazard insurance information for the borrower’s property and identifying the property by its physical address.
- Statement that the borrower’s hazard insurance has expired or is expiring, that the servicer lacks evidence that the borrower has hazard insurance coverage past the expiration date, and if applicable, identifies the type of hazard insurance lacking.
- Statement that hazard insurance is required on the borrower’s property and that the servicer has purchased or will purchase insurance at the borrower’s expense.
- Request that the borrower promptly provide the servicer with insurance information.
- Description of the requested insurance information and how the borrower may provide such information, and if applicable, that the requested information must be in writing.
- Statement that the insurance coverage the servicer has purchased or will purchase may cost significantly more than, and provide less coverage than, hazard insurance purchased by the borrower.
- Servicer’s phone number for borrower inquiries.

• Statement advising that the borrower review additional information provided in the same transmittal (if applicable).

Other than the specific statements listed above, the servicer cannot provide any information on the initial notice, though the servicer can provide additional information on separate pieces of paper contained in the same mailing. Certain information must be provided in bold text. Appendix MS-3(A) contains a form notice that servicers may use.

Third, the servicer must send a reminder notice at least 30 days after the initial notice is mailed or delivered and at least 15 days before the servicer assesses charges or fees. If the servicer has previously received no hazard insurance information in response to the initial notice, the reminder notice must contain the date of the reminder notice and all of the other information provided in the initial notice, as well as: (i) advise that it is a second and final notice, and (ii) identify the annual cost of force-placed insurance, or if unknown, a reasonable estimate of that cost.

If the servicer has received hazard insurance information but not evidence that the coverage has been in place continuously, the reminder notice must identify the following:

• Date of the notice.
• Servicer’s name and mailing address.
• Borrower’s name and mailing address.
• Statement requesting that the borrower provide hazard insurance information for the borrower’s property and that identifies the property by its physical address.
• Servicer’s phone number for borrower inquiries.
• Statement advising that the borrower review additional information provided in the same transmittal (if applicable).
• Statement that it is the second and final notice.
• Annual cost of force-placed insurance, or if unknown, a reasonable estimate of that cost.
• Statement that the servicer has received the hazard insurance information that the borrower provided.
• Request that the borrower provide the missing information.
• Statement that the borrower will be charged for insurance the servicer purchases during the time period in which the servicer cannot verify coverage.

Other than the specific statements previously listed, the servicer cannot provide any additional information on the reminder notice. The servicer can, however, provide additional information on separate pieces of paper contained in the same transmittal. Certain information must be provided in bold text. Appendix MS-3 contains sample reminder notices at forms MS-3(B) and MS-3(C). If a servicer receives new information about a borrower’s hazard insurance after the required written notice has been put into production, the servicer is not required to update the notice if the written notice was put into production a reasonable time before the servicer delivering the notice to the borrower or placing the notice in the mail.
Fourth, by the end of the 15-day period after the servicer sends the reminder notice, the servicer must not have received evidence that the borrower has had required hazard insurance continuously in place. As evidence, the servicer may require a copy of the borrower’s hazard insurance policy declaration page, the borrower’s insurance certificate, the borrower’s insurance policy, or other similar forms of written confirmation.

Renewing Force-Placed Insurance (12 CFR 1024.37(e))

A servicer must comply with two requirements before assessing charges or fees on a borrower to renew or replace existing force-placed insurance.

First, the servicer must provide 45-day advance written notice. This renewal notice must provide the following information:

- Date of the renewal notice.
- Servicer’s name and mailing address.
- Borrower’s name and mailing address.
- Request that the borrower update the hazard insurance information and that identifies the property by its physical address.
- Statement that the servicer previously purchased force-placed insurance at the borrower’s expense because the servicer did not have evidence that the borrower had hazard insurance coverage.
- Statement that the force-placed insurance is expiring or has expired and that the servicer intends to renew or replace it because hazard insurance is required on the property.
- Statement that the insurance coverage the servicer has purchased or will purchase may cost significantly more than, and provide less coverage than, hazard insurance purchased by the borrower, and identifying the annual cost (or if unknown, a reasonable estimate) of force-placed insurance.
- Statement that if the borrower purchases hazard insurance, the borrower should promptly advise the servicer.
- Description of the requested insurance information and how the borrower may provide such information, and if applicable, that the requested information must be in writing.
- Servicer’s telephone number for borrower inquiries.
- Statement advising the borrower to review additional information provided in the same transmittal (if applicable).

Other than the specific statements previously listed, the servicer cannot provide any additional information on the renewal notice, though the servicer can provide additional information on separate pieces of paper contained in the same transmittal. Certain information must be provided in bold text. Appendix MS-3(D) contains a form notice that servicers may use.

Second, by the end of the 45-day notice period, the servicer must not have received evidence demonstrating that the borrower has purchased required hazard insurance coverage.
Notwithstanding these two requirements, if not prohibited by state or other applicable law, if the servicer receives evidence that the borrower lacked insurance for some period of time after the existing force-placed insurance expired, the servicer may promptly assess a premium charge or fee related to renewing or replacing the existing force-placed insurance for that period of time.

The servicer must mail or deliver the renewal notice before each anniversary of purchasing force-placed insurance, though the servicer need not send the renewal notice more than once per year.

Mailing the Notices (12 CFR 1024.37(f))

If the servicer mails the initial notice, the reminder notice, or the renewal notice, the servicer must use at least first-class mail.

Canceling Force-Placed Insurance (12 CFR 1024.37(g))

If the servicer receives evidence that the borrower has had required hazard insurance coverage in place, then the servicer has 15 days to cancel the force-placed insurance, refund force-placed insurance premium charges and fees for the period of overlapping insurance coverage, and remove all force-placed charges and fees from the borrower’s account for that period.

Limitations on Force-Placed Insurance (12 CFR 1024.37(h))

All charges that a servicer assesses on a borrower related to force-placed insurance must be bona fide and reasonable, except for charges subject to state regulation and charges authorized by the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973. A bona fide and reasonable charge is one that is reasonably related to the servicer’s cost of providing the service and is not otherwise prohibited by law.

General Servicing Policies, Procedures, and Requirements (12 CFR 1024.38)

Servicers must maintain policies and procedures reasonably designed to achieve certain servicing-related objectives, and are subject to requirements regarding record retention and the ability to create servicing files.

These requirements apply to any mortgage loan, as that term is defined in 12 CFR 1024.31, except that they do not apply to (i) small servicers, (ii) reverse mortgage transactions, as that term is defined in 12 CFR 1024.31, or (iii) mortgage loans for which the servicer is a qualified lender. As noted above, an institution qualifies as a small servicer if it either (a) services, together with any affiliates, 5,000 or fewer mortgage loans, as that term is defined in 12 CFR 1026.41(a)(1), for all of which the institution (or an affiliate) is the creditor or assignee, or (b) is a Housing Finance Agency, as defined in 24 CFR 266.5.\textsuperscript{29} Qualified lenders are those defined to be qualified lenders under the Farm Credit Act of 1971 and the Farm Credit Administration’s accompanying regulations set forth at 12 CFR 617.7000 \textit{et seq.}\textsuperscript{30}

Reasonable Policies and Procedures (12 CFR 1024.38(a))

Servicers must maintain policies and procedures reasonably designed to meet the objectives identified in 12 CFR 1024.38(b). Servicers determine the specific policies and procedures they adopt and the methods for implementing them in light of the size, nature, and scope of the servicers’ operations, including, for example, the volume and aggregate unpaid principal balance of mortgage loans serviced, the credit quality (including the default risk) of the mortgage loans serviced, and the servicer’s history of consumer complaints. Procedures refer to the servicer’s actual practices for achieving the objective.

Objectives (12 CFR 1024.38(b))

Servicers are required to maintain policies and procedures that are reasonably designed to achieve the following objectives.

1. Accessing and providing timely and accurate information. The servicer’s policies and procedures must be reasonably designed to ensure that the servicer can

   a. provide accurate and timely disclosures to the borrower.
   b. investigate, respond to, and make corrections in response to borrowers’ complaints. These policies and procedures must be reasonably designed to ensure that the servicer can promptly obtain information from service providers to facilitate investigation and correction of errors resulting from actions of service providers.
   c. provide a borrower with accurate and timely information and documents in response to the borrower’s request for information with respect to the borrower’s mortgage loan.
   d. provide owners and assignees of mortgage loans with accurate information and documents about all the mortgage loans that they own. This includes information about a servicer’s evaluations of borrowers for loss mitigation options and a servicer’s loss mitigation agreements with borrowers, including loan modifications. Such information includes, for example: (1) a loan modification’s date, terms, and features; (2) the components of any capitalized arrears; (3) the amount of any servicer advances; and (4) any assumptions regarding the value of property used in evaluating any loss mitigation options.

\textsuperscript{29} The definition of small servicer is set forth at 12 CFR 1026.41(e)(4)(ii).

\textsuperscript{30} 12 CFR 617.7000 defines a qualified lender as (i) a system institution (except a bank for cooperatives) that extends credit to a farmer, rancher, or producer or harvester of aquatic products for any agricultural or aquatic purpose and other credit needs of the borrower, and (ii) other financing institutions with respect to loans discounted or pledged under section 1.7(b)(1)(B) of the Farm Credit Act.
f. submit documents or filings required for a foreclosure process, including documents or filings required by a court, that reflect accurate and current information and that comply with applicable law.

f. on notification of a borrower’s death, promptly identify and facilitate communication with the borrower’s successor in interest concerning the secured property.

2. Properly evaluating loss mitigation applications. The servicer’s policies and procedures must be reasonably designed to ensure that the servicer can

a. provide accurate information regarding loss mitigation options available to the borrower from the owner or assignee of the borrower’s loan.

b. identify specifically all loss mitigation options available to a borrower from the owner or assignee of the borrower’s mortgage loan. This includes identifying, with respect to each owner or assignee all of the loss mitigation options the servicer may consider when evaluating a borrower, as well as the criteria the servicer should apply for each option. The policies and procedures should be reasonably designed to address how the servicer applies any specific thresholds for eligibility for particular loss mitigation options established by an owner or assignee of a mortgage loan (e.g., if the owner requires that a particular option be limited to a certain percentage of loans, then the policies and procedures must be reasonably designed to determine in advance how the servicer applies that threshold). The policies and procedures must be reasonably designed to ensure that such information is readily accessible to the servicer’s loss mitigation personnel.

c. provide the loss mitigation personnel assigned to the borrower’s mortgage loan with prompt access to all of the documents and information that the borrower submitted in connection with a loss mitigation option.

d. identify the documents and information a borrower must submit to complete a loss mitigation application, and facilitate compliance with the notice required pursuant to 12 CFR 1024.41(b)(2)(i)(B).

e. in response to a complete loss mitigation application, properly evaluate the borrower for all eligible loss mitigation options pursuant to any requirements established by the owner or assignee of the mortgage loan, even if those requirements are otherwise beyond the requirements of 12 CFR 1024.41. For example, an owner or assignee may require that the servicer review a loss mitigation application submitted less than 37 days before a foreclosure sale or re-evaluate a borrower who has demonstrated a material change in financial circumstances.

3. Facilitating oversight of, and compliance by, service providers. The servicer’s policies and procedures must be reasonably designed to ensure that the servicer can

a. provide appropriate personnel with access to accurate and current documents and information concerning service providers’ actions.

b. facilitate periodic reviews of service providers.

c. facilitate the sharing of accurate and current information regarding the status of any evaluation of a borrower’s loss mitigation application and any foreclosure proceeding among appropriate servicer personnel, including the loss mitigation personnel.
assigned the borrower’s mortgage loan, and appropriate service provider personnel, including service provider personnel responsible for handling foreclosure proceedings.

4. Facilitating transfer of information during servicing transfers.

   a. Transferor servicer. The servicer’s policies and procedures must be reasonably designed to ensure that when it transfers a mortgage loan to another servicer, it (i) timely and accurately transfers all information and documents in its possession and control related to a transferred mortgage loan to the transferee servicer, and (ii) transfers the information and documents in a form and manner that ensures their accuracy and that allows the transferee to comply with the terms of the mortgage loan and applicable law. For example, when data is transferred electronically, a transferor servicer must have policies and procedures reasonably designed to ensure that data can be properly and promptly boarded by a transferee servicer’s electronic systems. The information that must be transferred includes information reflecting the current status of discussions with the borrower concerning loss mitigation options, any loss mitigation agreements entered into with the borrower, and analysis the servicer performed with respect to potential recovery from a non-performing mortgage loan.

   b. Transferee servicer. The servicer’s policies and procedures must be reasonably designed to ensure that when it receives a mortgage loan from another servicer, it can (i) identify necessary documents or information that may not have been transferred, and (ii) obtain such documentation or information from the transferor servicer. The servicer’s policies and procedures must also be reasonably designed to address obtaining missing information regarding loss mitigation from the transferor servicer before attempting to obtain it from the borrower. For example, if a servicer receives information indicating that a borrower has made payments consistent with a trial or permanent loan modification but the servicer has not received information about the actual modification, the servicer must have policies and procedures reasonably designed to identify whether any such modification agreement exists and to obtain any such agreement from the transferor servicer.

5. Informing borrowers of the written error resolution and information request procedures.

   a. The servicer must have policies and procedures reasonably designed to inform borrowers of the procedures for submitting written error notices under 12 CFR 1024.35 and written information requests under 12 CFR 1024.36. A servicer may comply with these requirements by informing borrowers of these procedures by notice (mailed or delivered electronically) or a Web site. For example, a servicer may comply with this provision by including a statement in the 12 CFR 1026.41 periodic statement advising borrowers that they have certain rights under Federal law related to resolving errors and requesting information, that they may learn more about their rights by contacting the servicer, and directing borrowers to a Web site.

   b. A servicer’s policies and procedures also must be reasonably designed to ensure that the servicer provides borrowers who are dissatisfied with the servicer’s response to complaints or information requests submitted orally with information about submitting a written error notice or written information request.
c. The commentary addresses the circumstance in which a borrower incorrectly submits an error notice to any address given to the borrower in connection with the submission of a loss mitigation application or continuity of contact. A servicer’s policies and procedures must be reasonably designed to ensure that the servicer informs a borrower of the correct procedures for submitting written error notices under such circumstances, including the correct address. Alternatively, the servicer could redirect the error notice to the correct address.

Standard Requirements (12 CFR 1024.38(c))

Servicers must also retain certain records and maintain particular documents in a manner that facilitates compiling such documents and data into a servicing file.

Record Retention (12 CFR 1024.38(c)(1))

Servicers must retain records that document any actions the servicer took with respect to a borrower’s mortgage loan account until one year after the loan is discharged or the servicer transfers servicing for the mortgage loan. Servicers may use any retention method that reproduces records accurately (such as computer programs) and that ensures that a servicer can access the records easily (such as a contractual right to access records another entity holds).

Servicing File (12 CFR 1024.38(c)(2))

Servicers must maintain the following documents and data in a manner that facilitates compiling such documents and data into a servicing file within five days: (1) a schedule of all credits and debits to the account (including escrow accounts and suspense accounts); (2) a copy of the security instrument establishing the lien securing the mortgage; (3) any notes created by servicer personnel concerning communications with the borrower; (4) a report of the data fields created by the servicer’s electronic systems relating to the borrower’s account (if applicable); and (5) copies of any information or documents provided by the borrower in connection with error notices or loss mitigation.

For purposes of this section, a report of data fields relating to a borrower’s account means a report listing the relevant data fields by name, populated with any specific data relating to the borrower’s account. Examples of such data fields include fields used to identify the terms of the borrower’s mortgage loan, the occurrence of automated or manual collection calls, the evaluation of borrower for a loss mitigation option, the owner or assignee of a mortgage loan, and any credit reporting history.

These requirements apply only to information created on or after January 10, 2014.
Early Intervention Requirements for Certain Borrowers
(12 CFR 1024.39)

Servicers must engage in certain efforts to contact delinquent borrowers. These requirements apply to only those mortgage loans, as that term is defined in 12 CFR 1024.31, that are secured by the borrower’s principal residence. The requirements do not apply to (i) small servicers, (ii) reverse mortgage transactions, as that term is defined in 12 CFR 1024.31, or (iii) mortgage loans for which the servicer is a qualified lender.

As noted above, an institution qualifies as a small servicer if it either (a) services, together with any affiliates, 5,000 or fewer mortgage loans, as that term is used in 12 CFR 1026.41(a)(1), for all of which the institution (or an affiliate) is the creditor or assignee, or (b) is a Housing Finance Agency, as defined in 24 CFR 266.5.31 Qualified lenders are those defined to be qualified lenders under the Farm Credit Act of 1971 and the Farm Credit Administration’s accompanying regulations set forth at 12 CFR 617.7000 et seq. For purposes of this section, a borrower who is performing under a loss mitigation agreement is not considered delinquent and is not covered by this section.

Live Contact (12 CFR 1024.39(a))

Servicers must make good faith efforts to establish live contact with a borrower no later than the 36th day of delinquency. Promptly after establishing live contact, the servicer must inform the borrower of any loss mitigation options, if appropriate. The commentary to the regulation states that “[d]elinquency begins on the day a payment sufficient to cover principal, interest, and, if applicable, escrow for a given billing cycle is due and unpaid.” Borrowers are not delinquent if they are performing according to the terms of a loss mitigation plan, but they become delinquent if and when they fail to make a payment required under such a plan.

The commentary also states that good faith efforts to establish live contact consist of “reasonable steps under the circumstances,” and these efforts “may include telephoning the borrower on more than one occasion or sending written or electronic communication encouraging the borrower to establish live contact with the servicer.”

It is within the servicer’s reasonable discretion to determine whether it is appropriate under the circumstances to inform a borrower of any loss mitigation options. An example of a servicer making a reasonable determination includes a servicer informing a borrower about loss mitigation options after the borrower notifies the servicer during live contact of a material adverse change in financial circumstances that is likely to cause a long-term delinquency for which loss mitigation options may be available. Another example is a servicer not providing information about loss mitigation options to a borrower who has missed a January 1 payment and notified the servicer that the full late payment will be transmitted to the servicer by February 15.

31 The definition of small servicer is set forth at 12 CFR 1026.41(e)(4)(ii).
Written Notice (12 CFR 1024.39(b))

Servicers must send a borrower a written notice within 45 days after the borrower becomes delinquent. The written notice must encourage the borrower to contact the servicer, provide the servicer’s telephone number and address to access assigned loss mitigation personnel, describe examples of loss mitigation options that may be available (if applicable), provide loss mitigation application instructions or advise how to obtain more information about loss mitigation options such as contacting the servicer (if applicable), and list either the CFPB’s or HUD’s Web site to access a list of homeownership counselors or counseling organizations and HUD’s toll-free number to access homeownership counselors or counseling organizations.

Appendix MS-4 contains model clauses at MS-4(A), MS-4(B), and MS-4(C).

A servicer is not required to provide the written notice under this section to a borrower more than once in any 180-day period. Accordingly, using the previous example, a servicer who provided the written notice to the borrower within 45 days after the borrower became delinquent on January 1 would not be required to send another written notice if the borrower failed to make the February 1 payment.

Conflicts With Other Law (12 CFR 1024.39(c))

Servicers are not required to comply with the live contact and written notice requirements if doing so would violate applicable law. Thus, for example, a servicer does not need to communicate with borrowers in a way that would be inconsistent with bankruptcy law.

Exemptions (12 CFR 1024.39(d))

Section 1024.39(d) exempts servicers from the early intervention requirements in two situations.

1. Borrowers in bankruptcy. A servicer is exempt from the early intervention requirements for a mortgage loan while the borrower is a debtor under the Bankruptcy Code (11 USC 101 et seq.).

   a. Obligation to resume post-bankruptcy. With respect to any portion of the mortgage debt that is not discharged through bankruptcy, a servicer must resume compliance with the early intervention requirement after the first delinquency that follows the earliest of the following: (i) the borrower’s bankruptcy case is dismissed; (ii) the borrower’s bankruptcy case is closed; or (iii) the borrower receives a general discharge of debts under the Bankruptcy Code. A servicer is not required, however, to communicate with a borrower in any way that would violate applicable bankruptcy law or a court order in a bankruptcy case, and a servicer may adapt the early intervention requirement in any manner believed necessary. A servicer also is not required to comply with the early intervention requirement for any portion of the mortality debt that was discharged under the Bankruptcy Code or if a bankruptcy case is revived.

b. Joint obligors. The bankruptcy exception applies if two or more borrowers are joint obligors with primary liability on a mortgage loan and any one of the borrowers is in bankruptcy. For example, if a husband and wife jointly own a home and the husband files for bankruptcy, the servicer is exempt from the early intervention requirements as to both the husband and wife.

Continuity of Contact (12 CFR 1024.40)

Servicers must maintain policies and procedures to facilitate continuity of contact between the borrower and the servicer.

These requirements apply to only those mortgage loans, as that term is defined in 12 CFR 1024.31, that are secured by the borrower’s principal residence. The requirements do not apply to (i) small servicers, (ii) reverse mortgage transactions, as that term is defined in 12 CFR 1024.31, or (iii) mortgage loans for which the servicer is a qualified lender.

As noted above, an institution qualifies as a small servicer if it either (a) services, together with any affiliates, 5,000 or fewer mortgage loans, as that term is used in 12 CFR 1026.41(a)(1), for all of which the institution (or an affiliate) is the creditor or assignee, or (b) is a Housing Finance Agency, as defined in 24 CFR 266.5. 32 Qualified lenders are those defined to be qualified lenders under the Farm Credit Act of 1971 and the Farm Credit Administration’s accompanying regulations set forth at 12 CFR 617.7000 et seq.

General Continuity of Contact Policies and Procedures (12 CFR 1024.40(a))

Servicers must have policies and procedures that are reasonably designed to assign personnel (one or more persons) to a delinquent borrower at the time the servicer provides the borrower with the written notice required under 12 CFR 1024.39(b), and in any event, not later than the 45th day of the borrower’s delinquency. The servicer’s assigned personnel should be available by telephone to answer the borrower’s questions and assist the borrower with available loss mitigation options until the borrower makes two consecutive timely payments under a permanent loss mitigation agreement. If the borrower contacts the assigned personnel and does not receive an immediate live response, the servicer must have policies and procedures reasonably designed to ensure the servicer can provide a live response in a timely manner.

32 The definition of small servicer is set forth at 12 CFR 1026.41(e)(4)(ii).
Functions of Servicer Personnel (12 CFR 1024.40(b))

The servicer must also maintain policies and procedures reasonably designed to ensure that the assigned personnel can perform certain functions, including providing the borrower with accurate information about (1) loss mitigation options available to the borrower from the owner or assignee of the borrower’s loan, (2) actions the borrower must take to be evaluated for such options, including the steps the borrower needs to take to submit a complete loss mitigation application and appeal a denial of a loan modification option (if applicable), (3) the status of any loss mitigation application the borrower has submitted, (4) the circumstances under which the servicer may refer the borrower’s account to foreclosure, and (5) any loss mitigation deadlines.

The servicer must also have policies and procedures reasonably designed to ensure that assigned personnel are able to (1) timely retrieve a complete record of the borrower’s payment history and all written information the borrower has provided to the servicer (or prior servicers) in connection with a loss mitigation application, (2) provide these documents to other people required to evaluate the borrower for loss mitigation options, if applicable, and (3) provide the borrower with information about submitting an error notice or information request under 12 CFR 1024.35 or 12 CFR 1024.36.

Loss Mitigation Procedures (12 CFR 1024.41)

Servicers must comply with certain loss mitigation procedures. The procedures differ depending on how far in advance of foreclosure a borrower submits a loss mitigation application. Regulation X does not impose a duty on a servicer to provide any borrower with any specific loss mitigation option.

The requirements set forth in 12 CFR 1024.41 apply to only those mortgage loans, as that term is defined in 12 CFR 1024.31, that are secured by the borrower’s principal residence. Except as noted in section 1024.41(j), the requirements do not apply to (i) small servicers, (ii) reverse mortgage transactions, as that term is defined in 12 CFR 1024.31, or (iii) mortgage loans for which the servicer is a qualified lender.

As noted above, an institution qualifies as a small servicer if it either (a) services, together with any affiliates, 5,000 or fewer mortgage loans, as that term is used in 12 CFR 1026.41(a)(1), for all of which the institution (or an affiliate) is the creditor or assignee, or (b) is a Housing Finance Agency, as defined in 24 CFR 266.5. Qualified lenders are those defined to be qualified lenders under the Farm Credit Act of 1971 and the Farm Credit Administration’s accompanying regulations set forth at 12 CFR 617.7000 et seq.

The CFPB has issued an advisory opinion clarifying that, because borrowers submit loss mitigation applications to servicers, a servicer’s communications with a borrower regarding such a loss mitigation application are not subject to the FDCPA’s “cease communication”

33 The definition of small servicer is set forth at 12 CFR 1026.41(e)(4)(ii).
provision unless the borrower specifically withdraws the request for action on the loss mitigation application.\textsuperscript{34}

Receipt of a Loss Mitigation Application (12 CFR 1024.41(b))

A servicer that receives a loss mitigation application at least 45 days before a foreclosure sale must take two steps.

First, the servicer must promptly review the application to determine if it is complete. An application is complete when it contains all the information the servicer requires from the borrower in evaluating applications for loss mitigation options.

Second, the servicer must notify the borrower within five days (excluding legal public holidays, Saturdays, and Sundays) that it has received the application and state whether it is complete or incomplete. If the application is incomplete, the notice must advise (1) what additional documents or information are needed, and (2) a reasonable deadline by which the borrower must submit them. A reasonable deadline is generally one of the following that maximizes the borrower’s loss mitigation protections, except when that deadline would make it impracticable to permit the borrower sufficient time to obtain and submit the needed information (such as requesting a borrower to submit documentation in less than seven days): (1) the date by which any document or information submitted by the borrower becomes stale or invalid; (2) the 120th day of the borrower’s delinquency; (3) 90 days before a foreclosure sale; or (4) 38 days before a foreclosure sale. Servicers must exercise reasonable diligence in obtaining documents and information to complete an incomplete loss mitigation application (e.g., promptly contacting the borrower to obtain missing information or determining whether information exists in the servicer’s files already that may provide the information missing from the borrower’s application).\textsuperscript{35}

A loss mitigation application includes oral inquiries by the borrower when the borrower provides the information a servicer would evaluate in connection with a loss mitigation application. A loss mitigation application is considered expansively and includes any request by a borrower that the servicer determines whether the borrower is “prequalified” for a loss mitigation program by evaluating the borrower against preliminary criteria.

\textsuperscript{35} When a borrower is complying with a payment forbearance program offered on the basis of an incomplete loss mitigation application, reasonable diligence would involve notifying the borrower that the borrower is being offered a payment forbearance program based on an evaluation of an incomplete loss mitigation application, and that the borrower has the option of completing the application to receive a full evaluation for all loss mitigation options available to the borrower. If a servicer provides such a notification, the borrower remains in compliance with the payment forbearance program, and the borrower does not request any further assistance, the servicer could suspend reasonable diligence efforts until near the end of the payment forbearance program. Near the end of the program, and before the end of the payment forbearance period, it may be necessary for the servicer to contact the borrower to determine if the borrower wishes to complete the application and proceed with a full loss mitigation evaluation.
A loss mitigation application does not include oral inquiries about loss mitigation options when the borrower does not provide any information that the servicer would use to evaluate an application, including when the borrower requests information only about the application process but does not provide any information to the servicer.

If a servicer has informed a borrower that the application is complete (or that particular information is needed to complete the application), and the servicer subsequently determines that additional information or corrected documents are required, the servicer must promptly request such information or documents from the borrower and treat the application as complete under sections 1024.41(f)(2) and (g) until the borrower is given a reasonable opportunity to complete the application.

Calculating Time Periods and Determining Protections (12 CFR 1024.41(b)(3))

Section 1024.41 provides borrowers certain protections depending on whether the servicer received a complete loss mitigation application at least a specified number of days before a foreclosure sale. (See, e.g., 12 CFR 1024.41(c)(1) (37 days); 12 CFR 1024.41(e) & (h) (90 days)). These time periods are calculated as of the date the servicer receives a complete loss mitigation application. Thus, scheduling or rescheduling a foreclosure sale after the servicer receives the complete loss mitigation application does not affect the borrower’s protections.

If no foreclosure sale is scheduled as of the date the servicer receives a complete loss mitigation application, the application is considered received more than 90 days before a foreclosure sale.

Evaluation of a Loss Mitigation Application (12 CFR 1024.41(c))

Evaluation of a Timely Complete Loss Mitigation Application (12 CFR 1024.41(c)(1))

A servicer that receives a complete loss mitigation application more than 37 days before a foreclosure sale must take two steps within 30 days.

- First, the servicer must evaluate the borrower for all loss mitigation options available to the borrower from the owner or investor of the borrower’s mortgage loan. The criteria on which a servicer offers or does not offer a loss mitigation option need not meet any particular standard. Nonetheless, a servicer’s failure to follow requirements imposed by an owner or investor may demonstrate the servicer’s failure to comply with the 12 CFR 1024.38(b)(2)(v) requirement that the servicer must maintain policies and procedures that are reasonably designed to ensure that the servicer can properly evaluate a borrower for all loss mitigation options for which the borrower may be eligible pursuant to any requirements established by the mortgage loan’s owner or assignee; and

- Second, the servicer must provide the borrower with a written notice stating which loss mitigation options, if any, the servicer offers to the borrower. The notice must state the amount of time the borrower has to accept or reject an offered loss mitigation option pursuant to 12 CFR 1024.41(e), and, if applicable, that the borrower has the right to appeal a denial of a loan modification option as well as the time period and any requirements for making an appeal pursuant to 12 CFR 1024.41(h).

Evaluation of an Incomplete Loss Mitigation Application (12 CFR 1024.41(c)(2)(i)-(iii))

With two exceptions, a servicer may not offer a loss mitigation option based on an evaluation of an incomplete application.

1. Reasonable time exception. If the servicer has exercised reasonable diligence in obtaining documents and information to complete the application but the application still remains incomplete for a significant period of time without further progress by the borrower, the servicer may evaluate an incomplete application and offer the borrower a loss mitigation option. What qualifies as a significant period of time may depend on the timing of the foreclosure process. For example, 15 days may be a more significant period of time if the borrower is less than 50 days before a foreclosure sale than if the borrower is less than 120 days delinquent. The requirements in section 1024.41 do not apply to this evaluation, and it is not considered an evaluation of a complete loss mitigation application for purposes of determining whether a request for a loss mitigation evaluation is duplicative under 12 CFR 1024.41(i).

2. Short-term forbearance plan exception. A short-term forbearance program allows a borrower to forgo making certain payments or portions of payments due over a period of no more than six months. A servicer may offer such a short-term payment forbearance program to a borrower based on an evaluation of an incomplete loss mitigation application. If the borrower is performing pursuant to such a forbearance program, a servicer may not make the first notice or filing required by applicable law for any judicial or non-judicial foreclosure process, and the servicer may not move for foreclosure judgment or an order of sale or conduct a foreclosure sale. The servicer must also comply with the remaining loss mitigation procedure requirements in section 1024.41 regarding incomplete applications, such as exercising reasonable diligence in obtaining documents and information to complete the application. Additionally, if the borrower completes the loss mitigation application, the servicer must comply with all of the loss mitigation procedure requirements in section 1024.41.

The commentary explains that a servicer may offer loss mitigation options to borrowers who have not submitted a loss mitigation application. Further, a servicer may offer loss mitigation options to borrowers who have submitted incomplete loss mitigation applications, so long as that offer is not based on an evaluation of information contained in the incomplete application.

36 For an explanation of “reasonable diligence,” see the discussion in connection with the receipt of loss mitigation applications under 12 CFR 1024.41(b).
Facially Complete Applications (12 CFR 1024.41(c)(2)(iv))

A loss mitigation application is facially complete if either (i) the servicer’s initial notice under section 1024.41(b) advised the borrower that the application was complete, or (ii) the servicer’s initial notice under section 1024.41(b) requested additional information from the borrower to complete the application and the borrower submitted such additional information.

If the servicer later discovers that additional information or corrections to a previously submitted document are required to complete the facially complete application, the servicer must promptly request the missing information or corrected documents and treat the application as complete for purposes of section 1024.41(f)(2) and (g) until the borrower is given a reasonable opportunity to complete the application. A reasonable opportunity depends on the particular facts and circumstances, but must provide the borrower sufficient time to gather the necessary information and documents.

If the borrower completes the application within this period, the application is considered complete as of the date it was actually complete for purposes of section 1024.41(c), and the application is considered complete as of the date it was facially complete for purposes of section 1024.41(d), (e), (f)(2), (g), and (h).

If the borrower does not complete the application within this period, the application is considered incomplete.

Denial of Any Loss Mitigation Option (12 CFR 1024.41(d))

If the servicer denies a loss mitigation application for any trial or permanent loan modification option, the notice provided to the borrower must also state the servicer’s specific reason or reasons for denying each trial or permanent loan modification option, and, if applicable, that the borrower was not evaluated on other criteria. Certain disclosures are required when a servicer denies an application for the following reasons or using the following procedures:

- Investor criteria and use of a waterfall.
  - If the servicer denies a loan modification option based on investor criteria, the servicer must identify the owner or assignee of the mortgage loan and the specific criteria that the borrower failed to satisfy.
  - When an owner or assignee has established an evaluation criteria that sets an order ranking for evaluation of loan modification options (commonly known as a “waterfall”) and a borrower has qualified for a particular loan modification option in the waterfall, it is sufficient for the servicer to inform the borrower, with respect to other loan modification options ranked below any such option offered to a borrower, that the investor’s requirements include the use of such a waterfall and that an offer of a loan modification option necessarily results in a denial for any other loan modification options below the option for which the borrower is eligible in the ranking.
• Net present value calculation. If the denial was based on a net present value calculation, the servicer must disclose the inputs used in the calculation.

• Reasons listed. The following applies if the servicer uses a hierarchy of eligibility criteria and, after reaching the first criterion that causes a denial, does not evaluate whether the borrower would have satisfied the remaining criteria. In this instance, the servicer need only (i) provide the specific reason or reasons why the borrower was actually rejected, and (ii) notify the borrower that the borrower was not evaluated on other criteria. A servicer is not required to determine or disclose whether a borrower would have been denied based on other criteria if the servicer did not actually evaluate these additional criteria.

Borrower Response (12 CFR 1024.41(e))

A servicer offering a loss mitigation option must provide the borrower with a minimum period of time to accept or reject the option, depending on when the servicer receives a complete application. If the application was complete 90 days or more before a foreclosure sale, the servicer must give the borrower at least 14 days to decide. If it was complete fewer than 90 but more than 37 days before a foreclosure sale, the servicer must give the borrower at least seven days to decide.

A borrower’s failure to respond on time can be treated as a rejection of the loss mitigation options, with two exceptions. First, a borrower who is offered a trial loan modification plan and submits payments that would have been owed under that plan before the deadline for accepting must be given a reasonable time to fulfill any remaining requirements of the servicer for acceptance of the trial loan modification plan. Second, a servicer must give a borrower who has a pending appeal until 14 days after the servicer provides notice of its determination regarding resolution of that appeal to decide whether to accept any offered loss mitigation option.

Prohibition on Foreclosure Referral (12 CFR 1024.41(f))

A servicer cannot make the first foreclosure notice or filing for any judicial or non-judicial process until (i) the borrower is more than 120 days delinquent, (ii) the foreclosure is based on a borrower’s violation of a due-on-sale clause, or (iii) the servicer is joining a subordinate lienholder’s foreclosure action. The commentary states that whether a document qualifies as the first notice or filing depends on the foreclosure process at issue:

• Judicial foreclosure. When foreclosure procedure requires a court action or proceeding, the first notice or filing is the earliest document required to be filed with a court or other judicial body to commence the action or proceeding. Depending on the particular foreclosure process, examples of these documents could be a complaint, petition, order to docket, or notice of hearing.

• Non-judicial foreclosure—recording or publication requirement. When foreclosure procedure does not require an action or court proceeding (such as under a power of sale), the first notice or filing is the earliest document required to be recorded or published to initiate the foreclosure process; or
• Non-judicial foreclosure—no recording or publication requirement. When foreclosure procedure does not require an action or court proceeding and does not require any document to be recorded or published, the first notice or filing is the earliest document that establishes, sets, or schedules a date for the foreclosure sale.

The commentary further states that a document provided to the borrower but not initially required to be filed, recorded, or published is not considered the first notice or filing on the sole basis that the documents must later be included as an attachment accompanying another document that is required to be filed, recorded, or published to carry out a foreclosure.

If a borrower submits a complete loss mitigation application before the 120th day of delinquency or before the servicer makes the first foreclosure notice or filing, then the servicer cannot make the first foreclosure notice or filing unless one of the following occurs: (i) the servicer sends a notice to the borrower stating that the borrower is ineligible for any loss mitigation option and if an appeal is available, either the borrower did not timely appeal, or the appeal has been denied; (ii) the borrower rejects all the offered loss mitigation options; or (iii) the borrower fails to perform under a loss mitigation agreement.

Prohibition on Foreclosure Sale (12 CFR 1024.41(g))

If a borrower submits a complete loss mitigation application after the servicer has made the first foreclosure notice or filing but more than 37 days before a foreclosure sale, the servicer cannot conduct a foreclosure sale or move for foreclosure judgment or sale unless one of the following occurs: (i) the servicer sends a notice to the borrower stating that the borrower is ineligible for any loss mitigation option and the appeal process is inapplicable, the borrower did not timely appeal, or the appeal has been denied; (ii) the borrower rejects all the offered loss mitigation options; or (iii) the borrower fails to perform under a loss mitigation agreement.

Appeal Process (12 CFR 1024.41(h))

A borrower has the right to appeal a servicer’s denial of a loss mitigation application for any trial or permanent loan modification available to the borrower if the borrower submitted a complete application 90 days or more before a foreclosure sale (or during the pre-foreclosure period set forth in 12 CFR 1024.41(f)). The borrower must commence the appeal within 14 days after the servicer provides the notice stating the servicer’s determination of which loss mitigation options, if any, it offers to the borrower.

Within 30 days of the borrower making the appeal, the servicer must provide a notice to the borrower stating: (i) whether the servicer will offer the borrower a loss mitigation option based on the appeal, and (ii) if applicable, how long the borrower has to accept or reject this loss mitigation option or a previously offered loss mitigation option. If the servicer offers a loss mitigation option after an appeal, the servicer must provide the borrower at least 14 days to decide whether to accept the offered loss mitigation option.
The servicer’s personnel who evaluated the borrower’s application cannot also evaluate the appeal, although personnel who supervised the initial evaluation may evaluate the appeal so long as they were not directly involved in the initial evaluation.

Duplicative Requests (12 CFR 1024.41(i))

A servicer is required to comply with these loss mitigation procedures for only a single complete loss mitigation application for a borrower’s mortgage loan account.

Small Servicer Requirements (12 CFR 1024.41(j))

A small servicer cannot make the first foreclosure notice or filing required by any judicial or non-judicial foreclosure process until (i) the borrower is more than 120 days delinquent, (ii) the foreclosure is based on a borrower’s violation of a due-on-sale clause, or (iii) the servicer is joining a subordinate lienholder’s foreclosure action. If the borrower is performing according to the terms of a loss mitigation agreement, a small servicer also cannot make the first foreclosure notice or filing, move for a foreclosure judgment or order of sale, or conduct a foreclosure sale.
Examination Procedures

This booklet contains objectives and expanded procedures for examining compliance with the RESPA regulation. Examiners decide which of these objectives and procedures are relevant to the scope of the examination during examination planning or after drawing preliminary conclusions during the compliance core assessment as outlined in the “Community Bank Supervision,” “Large Bank Supervision,” or “Federal Branches and Agencies Supervision” booklet of the Comptroller’s Handbook.

Objective: To determine whether the bank has established policies and procedures to ensure compliance with RESPA and Regulation X.

Review the adequacy of the bank’s policies and procedures by using the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act Worksheet.

Objective: To determine the bank’s level of compliance with RESPA and Regulation X, including

- whether the bank engages in any practices prohibited by RESPA or Regulation X, such as kickbacks, payment, or receipt of referral fees or unearned fees, or excessive escrow arrangements.
- if the Special Information Booklet, GFE, Uniform Settlement Statement (Form HUD-1 or HUD-1A), mortgage servicing transfer disclosures, and other required disclosures are in a form that complies with Regulation X, are properly completed, and provided to borrowers within prescribed time periods.
- if the bank is submitting the required initial and annual escrow account statements to borrowers as applicable, properly administering escrow accounts, and otherwise complying with requirements and limitations on escrow account arrangements.
- whether the bank is responding to borrower error notices relating to the servicing of their mortgage loans in compliance with the provisions of Regulation X.
- whether the bank is responding to borrower inquiries for information relating to the servicing of their mortgage loans in compliance with the provisions of Regulation X.
- whether the bank is providing proper notices to borrowers of mortgage loans before assessing charges or fees for force-placed insurance and refunding charges and fees in appropriate cases as RESPA and Regulation X require.
- whether the bank complies with Regulation X’s record management requirements.
- whether the bank is following Regulation X’s early intervention and continuity of contact requirements, as applicable.
- whether the bank is complying with Regulation X’s loss mitigation procedures as applicable.

Determine the bank’s level of compliance by using the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act Worksheet.
Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act Worksheet

This worksheet can be used for reviewing audit work papers, evaluating bank policies, performing expanded procedures, and training, as appropriate. Complete only those sections of the worksheet that specifically relate to the issue being reviewed, evaluated, or tested, and retain those completed sections in the work papers.

When reviewing audit or evaluating bank policies, a “no” answer indicates a possible exception or deficiency and should be explained in the work papers. When performing expanded procedures, a “no” answer indicates a violation and should be explained in the work papers. If a line item is not applicable within the area you are reviewing, indicate “NA.”

Forcible-Placed Insurance
12 CFR 1024.17(k)(5) includes requirements with respect to borrowers who had established an escrow account for the payment of hazard insurance. The provision contains a limited exception for small servicers. 12 CFR 1026.41(e)(4)(ii) provides that a financial institution generally qualifies as a small servicer if it services, together with any affiliates, 5,000 or fewer mortgage loans, as the term is used in 12 CFR 1026.41(a)(1), for all of which the servicer (or an affiliate) is the creditor or assignee. The following mortgage loans are not considered in determining whether a servicer qualifies as a small servicer: (a) mortgage loans voluntarily serviced by the servicer for a creditor or assignee that is not an affiliate of the servicer and for which the servicer does not receive any compensation or fees; (b) reverse mortgage transactions; and (c) mortgage loans secured by consumers’ interests in timeshare plans. (12 CFR 1026.41(e)(4)(iii)

The procedures related to 12 CFR 1024.38 discuss the definition of smaller servicer in greater detail. In addition, the procedures related to 12 CFR 1024.34 and 37 may be applicable to escrow accounts and fees or charges for force-placed insurance.

<th>31. Did the financial institution purchase force-placed insurance for a borrower who had established an escrow for the payment of hazard insurance? If the financial institution purchased force-placed insurance, was the financial institution permitted to do so under 12 CFR 1024.17(k)(5)? Under that provision, a financial institution may not purchase force-placed insurance unless (i) the borrower was more than 30 days delinquent, and (ii) the financial institution was unable to disburse funds from the escrow account to ensure that the borrower’s hazard insurance premium charges were paid in a timely manner.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

A financial institution is unable to disburse funds if it has a reasonable basis to believe that either (a) the borrower’s property is vacant, or (b) the borrower’s hazard insurance has terminated for reasons other than non-payment of the premium charges. A financial institution is not considered to be unable to disburse funds from the borrower’s account solely because the account has insufficient funds for paying hazard insurance premium charges. (12 CFR 1024.17(k)(5)(ii))

| 32. Small servicer exception. Notwithstanding 12 CFR 1024.17(k)(5), a small servicer may charge borrowers for force-placed insurance under limited circumstances. If the financial institution is a small servicer and charged borrowers for force-placed insurance, was the cost to each borrower of the force-placed insurance less than the amount the financial institution would have needed to disburse from the borrower’s escrow account to ensure that hazard insurance charges were paid in a timely manner? (12 CFR 1024.17(k)(5)(iii)) |

Subpart C–Mortgage Servicing

Applicability: Except as otherwise noted in 12 CFR 1024.33, the provisions of subpart C–Mortgage Servicing, 12 CFR 1024.30-41, apply to any mortgage loan, as that term is defined in 12 CFR 1024.31

Mortgage Servicing Transfer Disclosures (12 CFR 1024.33)

Disclosure Statement

Complete the following if the financial institution received an application for a first-lien mortgage loan, as defined in 12 CFR 1024.31

33. Does the financial institution provide a proper servicing disclosure statement to the borrower within three days (excluding legal public holidays, Saturdays, and Sundays) after receipt of the application? The disclosure statement must advise whether the servicing of the mortgage loan may be assigned, sold, or transferred to any other person at any time. A model disclosure statement is set forth in appendix MS-1. (12 CFR 1024.33(a))

The disclosure statement is required only for applications for first liens. Additionally, the disclosure statement is not required if the institution denied the application within the three-day period.

Transfers of Mortgage Servicing Rights–Disclosures

Complete the following if the financial institution has transferred or received mortgage servicing rights. The following are generally not considered transfers: (1) transfers between affiliates; (2) transfers resulting from mergers or acquisitions of servicers or subservicers; and (3) transfers between master servicers, when the subservicer remains the same. Additionally, the FHA is not required to provide a notice of transfer to the borrower when a mortgage insured under the National Housing Act is assigned to FHA. (12 CFR 1024.33(b))

34. If the financial institution has transferred mortgage servicing rights, was the notice to the borrower given at least 15 days after the transfer? (12 CFR 1024.33(b)(3)) This notice may be combined with the transferee’s notice (discussed in step 35) into one notice if delivered to the borrower at least 15 days before the effective date of the transfer. Notices provided at the time of settlement satisfy the timing requirements.

35. If the financial institution has received mortgage servicing rights, was the notice to the borrower given at least 15 days after the transfer? (12 CFR 1024.33(b)(3))
Examination Procedures > Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act Worksheet

This notice may be combined with the transferor’s notice (discussed in step 34) into one notice if delivered to the borrower at least 15 days before the effective date of the transfer. Notices provided at the time of settlement satisfy the timing requirements.

36. Does the notice sent by the financial institution include the following information? (12 CFR 1024.33(b)(4)) Sample language for the notice of transfer is contained in appendix MS-2 to 12 CFR 1024.

- The effective date of the transfer;
- The name, address, and toll-free or collect-call telephone number for an employee or department of the transferee servicer that can be contacted by the borrower to obtain answers to servicing transfer inquiries;
- The name, address, and toll-free or collect-call telephone number for an employee or department of the transferor servicer that can be contacted by the borrower to obtain answers to servicing transfer inquiries;
- The date on which the transferor servicer ceases accepting payments relating to the loan and the date on which the transferee servicer begins to accept such payments. These dates must either be the same or consecutive dates;
- Whether the transfer will affect the terms or the availability of optional insurance and any action the borrower must take to maintain such coverage; and
- A statement that the transfer of servicing does not affect the terms and conditions of the mortgage, except as directly related to servicing. (appendix MS-2 to 12 CFR 1024)

37. Unless the borrower notified the financial institution of a new address pursuant to the financial institution’s requirements, did the transferor and transferee send the notice to the borrower’s address listed in the mortgage loan documents? (12 CFR 1024, Supp. I., Comment 1024.33(b)(3)-1)

Transfers of Mortgage Servicing Rights—Treatment of Post-Transfer Payments

Complete the following if the financial institution has transferred or received mortgage servicing rights.

Yes  No  NA

38. Does the financial institution refrain from imposing late fees or otherwise treating payments as late for any purpose if the borrower sends any payments to the transferor servicer within the 60 days following a transfer of servicing rights? (12 CFR 1024.33(c)(1))

39. Does the financial institution either (a) forward the payment to the transferee servicer, or (b) return the payment and inform the payer of the proper recipient of the payment if the borrower sends any payment to the transferor servicer within 60 days following a transfer of servicing rights? (12 CFR 1024.33(c)(2))

Timely Escrow Payments and Treatment of Escrow Account Balances (12 CFR 1024.34)

Complete the following steps if the terms of a borrower’s mortgage loan, as defined in 12 CFR 1024.31, require the borrower to make payments to the financial institution for deposit into an escrow account to pay taxes, insurance premiums, and other charges for the mortgaged property.

Yes  No  NA

40. Does the financial institution make payments from the escrow account in a timely manner? A “timely manner” means on or before the deadline to avoid a penalty, as governed by the requirements of 12 CFR 1024.17(k).

41. Does the financial institution return amounts remaining in escrow within 20 days (excluding legal public holidays, Saturdays, and Sundays) after the borrower pays the mortgage in full? (12 CFR 1024.34(b)) The financial institution does not need to return this amount if it and the borrower agree to credit the remaining funds toward an escrow account for certain new mortgage loans.

Error Resolution Procedures (12 CFR 1024.35)

Complete the following based on a review of a sample of mortgage loan (as defined in 12 CFR 1024.31) files that included error notices from borrowers or through other appropriate methods.

Yes  No  NA

Address for Error Notices

If the institution designates an address or addresses to which borrowers must send error notices, complete: 42-45, if not, complete 46:

| 42. | Does the financial institution provide written notice of the address to the borrower, along with a statement that the borrower must use the address to assert errors? (12 CFR 1024.35(c)) |
| 43. | Does the financial institution also provide that address to the borrower in each of the following three types of communications? |
| | • Any periodic statement or coupon book required under 12 CFR 1026.41; |
| | • Any Web site the financial institution maintains in connection with the servicing of the loan; and |
| | • Any notice required pursuant to 12 CFR 1024.39 (early intervention) or 1024.41 (loss mitigation) that includes contact information for assistance (12 CFR Part 1024, Supp. I., Comment 1024.35(c)-2). |
| 44. | Does the financial institution designate the same address for receiving information requests pursuant to section 1024.36(b)? (12 CFR 1024.35(c)) |
| 45. | If the financial institution has established an electronic method for submitting error notices that is its exclusive online intake process, is the electronic process in addition to, and not in lieu of, any process for receiving error notices by mail? (12 CFR 1024, Supp. I., Comment 1024.35(c)-4) |
| 46. | If the financial institution has not established a specific address to which to send error notices, does the financial institution respond to error notices sent to any of its offices? (12 CFR 1024, Supp. I., Comment 1024.35(c)-1) |

Applicability: Servicers must comply with restrictions on purchasing, renewing, and assessing fees for “force-placed insurance,” which is defined as hazard insurance that a servicer obtains on behalf of the owner or assignee to insure the property securing the mortgage loan (but does not include (i) flood insurance required by the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973; (ii) hazard insurance obtained by a borrower but renewed by the borrower’s servicer in accordance with 12 CFR 1024.17(k)(1), (2), or (5); or (iii) hazard insurance obtained by a borrower but renewed by the borrower’s servicer at its discretion with the borrower’s agreement).

The provisions of 12 CFR 1024.37 define when a financial institution may assess fees on borrowers related to force-placed insurance. These provisions apply to any mortgage loan, as that term is defined in 12 CFR 1024.31.

39 With respect to any portion of the mortgage debt that is not discharged through bankruptcy, a servicer must resume compliance with the early intervention requirement after the first delinquency that follows the earliest of the following: (i) the borrower’s bankruptcy case is dismissed; (ii) the borrower’s bankruptcy case is closed; or (iii) the borrower receives a general discharge of debts under the Bankruptcy Code (11 USC 101 et seq.). A servicer is not required, however, to communicate with a borrower in any way that would violate applicable bankruptcy law or a court order in a bankruptcy case, and a servicer may adapt the early intervention requirement in any manner believed necessary. A servicer also is not required to comply with the early intervention requirement for any portion of the mortgage debt that was discharged under the Bankruptcy Code or if a bankruptcy case is revived (12 CFR 1024.39(d)). The bankruptcy exception applies if two or more borrowers are joint obligors with primary liability on a mortgage loan and any one of the borrowers is in bankruptcy. For example, if a husband and wife jointly own a home and the husband files for bankruptcy, the servicer is exempt from the early intervention requirements as to both the husband and wife (12 CFR 1024, Supp. I., Comment 1024.39(d)(1)-3)).
loans, as that term is defined in 12 CFR 1024.31, that are secured by the borrower’s principal residence. (12 CFR 1024.30(c)(2)) The requirements do not apply to (i) small servicers, as that term is defined in 12 CFR 1026.41(e), (ii) reverse mortgage transactions, as that term is defined in 12 CFR 1026.33(a), and (iii) qualified lenders, as defined under the Farm Credit Act of 1971 and accompanying regulations. (12 CFR 1024.30(b))

91. Does the financial institution have policies and procedures reasonably designed to assign personnel to a delinquent borrower by the time the written early intervention notice was provided, and in any event, within 45 days after the borrower became delinquent? (12 CFR 1024.40(a))

92. Does the financial institution have policies and procedures reasonably designed to ensure that the assigned personnel are available, via telephone, to answer the borrower’s questions and (as applicable) assist the borrower with available loss mitigation options until the borrower has made, without incurring a late charge, two consecutive mortgage payments in accordance with the terms of a permanent loss mitigation agreement? (12 CFR 1024.40(a)(2))

93. Does the financial institution have policies and procedures reasonably designed to ensure that, if a borrower contacts the assigned personnel and does not immediately receive a live response, the institution can provide a live response in a timely manner? (12 CFR 1024.40(a)(3))

94. Does the financial institution maintain policies and procedures reasonably designed to ensure that the assigned personnel can perform, among others, the following tasks:

- Provide the borrower with accurate information about available loss mitigation options, including the steps the borrower must take to be evaluated for such options, including how to complete a loss mitigation application or appeal a denial of a loan modification option (if applicable);
- Provide the borrower with accurate information about the status of any loss mitigation application submitted;
- Provide the borrower with accurate information about the circumstances under which the financial institution may refer the account to foreclosure;
- Provide the borrower with accurate information about applicable loss mitigation deadlines;
- Timely retrieve a complete record of the borrower’s payment history and all written information the borrower has provided to the financial institution (or the financial institution’s predecessors) in connection with a loss mitigation application, and provide these documents to other persons required to evaluate the borrower for available loss mitigation options; and
- Provide the borrower with information about submitting a written error notice or written request for information? (12 CFR 1024.40(b))

Loss Mitigation Procedures (12 CFR 1024.41)

Applicability: The loss mitigation procedure requirements apply to only those mortgage loans, as that term is defined in 12 CFR 1024.31, that are secured by the borrower’s principal residence. (12 CFR 1024.30(c)(2)) Except for the requirements

40 An institution generally qualifies as a small servicer if it services, together with any affiliates, 5,000 or fewer mortgage loans, for all of which the institution (or an affiliate) is the creditor or assignee. (12 CFR 1026.41(e)(4)(ii)). The following mortgage loans are not considered in determining whether a servicer qualifies as a small servicer: (a) mortgage loans voluntarily serviced by the servicer for a creditor or assignee that is not an affiliate of the servicer and for which the servicer does not receive any compensation or fees; (b) reverse mortgage transactions; and (c) mortgage loans secured by consumers’ interests in timeshare plans (12 CFR 1026.41(e)(4)(iii)).
of 1024.41(j), the loss mitigation procedure requirements do not apply to (i) small servicers, as that term is defined in 12 CFR 1026.41(e), (ii) reverse mortgage transactions, as that term is defined in 12 CFR 1026.33(a), and (iii) qualified lenders, as defined under the Farm Credit Act and accompanying regulations. (12 CFR 1024.30(b))

Calculating time periods: 12 CFR 1024.41 provides borrowers certain protections depending on whether the financial institution receives a complete loss mitigation application at least a specified number of days before a foreclosure sale. See, e.g., 12 CFR 1024.41(c)(1) (37 days); 12 CFR 1024.41(e) & (h) (90 days). These time periods are calculated as of the date the servicer receives a complete loss mitigation application. Thus, scheduling or rescheduling a foreclosure sale after the servicer receives the complete loss mitigation application does not affect the borrower’s protections (12 CFR 1024, Supp. I., Comment 1024.41(b)(3)-2). If no foreclosure sale is scheduled as of the date the servicer receives a complete loss mitigation application, the application is considered received more than 90 days before a foreclosure sale. (12 CFR 1024, Supp. I., Comment 1024.41(b)(3)-1)

Definition of first notice or filing: 12 CFR 1024.41 includes certain prohibitions on making the first notice or filing for a judicial or non-judicial foreclosure, and provides borrowers certain protections depending on whether such a notice or filing has been made. Whether a particular document qualifies as the first notice or filing depends on the foreclosure process under the applicable state law at issue:

• Judicial foreclosure. When foreclosure procedure requires a court action or proceeding, the first notice or filing is the earliest document required to be filed with a court or other judicial body to commence the action or proceeding. Depending on the particular foreclosure process, examples of these documents could be a complaint, petition, order to docket, or notice of hearing;

• Non-judicial foreclosure—recording or publication requirement. When foreclosure procedure does not require an action or court proceeding (such as under a power of sale), the first notice or filing is the earliest document required to be recorded or published to initiate the foreclosure process; or

• Non-judicial foreclosure—no recording or publication requirement. When foreclosure procedure does not require an action or court proceeding and also does not require any document to be recorded or published, the first notice or filing is the earliest document that establishes, sets, or schedules a date for the foreclosure sale.

Note: A document provided to the borrower but not initially required to be filed, recorded, or published is not considered the first notice or filing on the sole basis that the documents must later be included as an attachment accompanying another document that is required to be filed, recorded, or published to carry out a foreclosure. (12 CFR 1024, Supp. I., Comment 1024.41(f)-1)

41 An institution qualifies as a small servicer if it either (a) services, together with any affiliates, 5,000 or fewer mortgage loans, for all of which the institution (or an affiliate) is the creditor or assignee, or (b) is a Housing Finance Agency, as defined in 24 CFR 266.5 (12 CFR 1026.41(e)(4)(ii)). The following mortgage loans are not considered in determining whether a servicer qualifies as a small servicer: (a) mortgage loans voluntarily serviced by the servicer for a creditor or assignee that is not an affiliate of the servicer and for which the servicer does not receive any compensation or fees; (b) reverse mortgage transactions; and (c) mortgage loans secured by consumers’ interests in timeshare plans (12 CFR 1026.41(e)(4)(iii)).

95. Does the financial institution promptly determine whether the application was complete? (12 CFR 1024.41(b)(1)) A loss mitigation application is viewed expansively and includes oral inquiries by the borrower when the borrower also provides information the financial institution would use to evaluate loss mitigation applications, or when a borrower requests that the financial institution determines whether the borrower is “prequalified” for a loss mitigation application by evaluating the borrower against preliminary criteria. (12 CFR 1024, Supp. I., Comment 1024.41(b)(1)-2) A financial institution is required to comply with the loss mitigation procedures for only a single complete loss mitigation application for a borrower’s mortgage loan account. (12 CFR 1024.41(b)(2)) Except when doing so would be impracticable (such as requesting a borrower to submit documentation in less than seven days), a reasonable deadline is generally one of the following that maximizes the borrower’s loss mitigation protections: (a) the date by which any document or information submitted by the borrower becomes stale or invalid, (b) the 120th day of the borrower’s delinquency, (c) 90 days before a foreclosure sale; or (d) 38 days before a foreclosure sale. (12 CFR 1024, Supp. I., Comment 1024.41(b)(2)(ii)-1)

| 100. Does the financial institution exercise reasonable diligence in obtaining documents and information to complete the application? (12 CFR 1024.41(b)(1)) Examples of reasonable diligence include: (a) when the financial institution requires additional information from the borrower (such as an address or telephone number to verify employment), promptly contacting the borrower to obtain the information; and (b) when the borrower’s loan is transferred to the financial institution from another servicer, reviewing documents the financial institution received from the prior servicer to determine if the required information is contained in those documents. Additionally, if the financial institution offered the borrower a short-term forbearance plan based on information contained in an incomplete loss mitigation application, reasonable diligence would involve notifying the borrower that the borrower is being offered a payment forbearance program based on an evaluation of an incomplete loss mitigation application, and that the borrower has the option of completing the application to receive a full evaluation for all loss mitigation options available to the borrower. Conclusions

Conclusion: The aggregate level of compliance risk is (low, moderate, or high). The direction of compliance risk is (increasing, stable, or decreasing).

Objective: To determine, document, and communicate overall findings and conclusions regarding the examination of RESPA and Regulation X.

1. Determine preliminary examination findings and conclusions and discuss with the examiner-in-charge (EIC), including
   - quantity of compliance risk.
   - quality of risk management.
   - aggregate level and direction of compliance risk.
   - overall risk in RESPA and Regulation X.
   - violations and other concerns.

2. Discuss examination findings with bank management, including violations, recommendations, and conclusions about risks and risk management practices. If necessary, obtain commitments for corrective action.

3. Compose conclusion comments, highlighting any issues that should be included in the report of examination. If necessary, compose a matters requiring attention (MRA) comment.

4. Provide final examination findings and conclusions to the EIC.

5. Update the OCC’s information system and any applicable report of examination schedules or tables.

6. Write a memorandum specifically setting out what the OCC should do in the future to effectively supervise RESPA and Regulation X, including time periods, staffing, and workdays required.

7. Update, organize, and reference work papers in accordance with OCC policy.

8. Ensure any paper or electronic media that contain sensitive bank or customer information are appropriately disposed of or secured.

Appendix C: RESPA Escrow Account Process

Escrow Accounts 12 CFR 1024.17

| Escrow disclosures provided at or after closing | - When loan has an escrow account, provide
| | - initial escrow account statement.
| | - annual escrow account statement.
| | - When loan is assigned, sold, or transferred, provide
| | - Notice of transfer of loan servicing.
| Initial escrow account statement | - Deliver at settlement or within 45 days.
| 12 CFR 1024.17 (g)-(h) | - Content includes
| | - amount of monthly mortgage payment and escrow amount.
| | - itemized estimated taxes, insurance premiums, other charges over computation year.
| | - amount of cushion (two months of the escrow payment).
| | - anticipated disbursement dates.
| | - trial running balance for the account.
| Annual escrow account statement | - Provide within 30 days of the end of computation year.
| 12 CFR 1024.17 (i)-(j) | - Content includes
| | - itemization of amount of current and previous year’s monthly payments and escrow amounts.
| | - itemization of amounts paid out during computation year for taxes, insurance premiums, and other charges.
| | - balance.
| | - explanation of surplus and/or deficiency.
| | - if applicable, reason the estimated low balance was not reached.
| Escrow analysis | - Step 1: Initial trial balance is based on the estimated taxes, insurance premiums, and other charges (separately identified) that are expected to be paid from the escrow during the next 12 months.
| | - Step 2: Increase monthly escrow payment to eliminate negative balances.
| | - The lowest balance for the year determines the upfront initial deposit needed by the lender (plus any cushion).
| | - Step 3: Add cushion.
| | - The servicer is allowed to maintain a maximum “cushion” in the account:
| | - 1/6 of the total escrow charges anticipated over the next 12 months.
| | - Step 4: Surpluses, shortages, and deficiencies.
| | - A surplus greater than $50
| | - must be returned to the customer within 30 days of the analysis.
| | - may be applied to past due account if payment is not received within 30 days of the due date.
| | - A surplus less than $50, may be refunded to the borrower or credited against the next year’s escrow payments.

Comptroller’s Handbook
79
Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act
If the shortage is less than one month’s escrow payment, the servicer may
- require the borrower to repay the shortage within 30 days.
- require the borrower to repay the shortage in equal monthly payments over the next 12 months.
- allow the shortage to exist.

If the shortage is more than or equal to one month’s escrow payment, the servicer may
- require the borrower to repay the shortage in equal monthly payments over at least a 12-month period.
- allow the shortage to exist.

If the deficiency amount is less than one month’s escrow payment, the servicer may
- allow the shortage to exist.
- require the borrower to repay the deficiency within 30 days.
- allow repayment in two or more equal monthly payments.

If the deficiency amount is equal to or greater than one month’s escrow payment, the servicer may
- allow the deficiency to exist.
- require the borrower to repay the deficiency in two or more equal monthly payments.
