Information has been received which indicates that names of legitimate insurance companies including Central State Insurance Company, Jefferson National Life Insurance Company and Reserve Life Insurance Company are cited on "Insurance Binders" which are being used as backup collateral to letters of credit issued by entities not known as financially capable issuers of such credits. In each reported instance, the insurance company so named has advised that such "binders" are unauthorized and non-binding instruments.

Extreme caution is advised if any such instrument is disclosed on any such financial transaction.
